VISIT POSTPONEMENT SOUGHT BY NIKITA

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Diplomats here said today that Premier Khrushchev will seek a postponement of President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Russia next month. They said Khrushchev would suggest this to Eisenhower during the summit conference. They have their views on Khrushchev's statement Wednesday that he was "horrified" to hear Eisenhower had endorsed the flight of an American U-2 espionage plane over Russia.

Ike Wants To Go

Ready Unless Invite Withdrawn

(Times News Services)
WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower told a group of Republican congressmen today he will not cancel his plans to go to Russia in June unless Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev withdraws his invitation.

The president said, however, that if Khrushchev wants to follow up his highly critical remarks made in Moscow Wednesday by withdrawing his invitation, it will be all right with Eisenhower and the time can be easily utilized elsewhere.

The Congressmen reported that the president said that Khrushchev will have to withdraw his invitation in a face-to-face meeting at the summit in Paris next week before Eisenhower cancels his plans to go to Moscow.

Eisenhower is believed reluctant to call off his trip except for the most compelling reasons.

Diplomats in Moscow said it now is more important than ever for Eisenhower to make the trip. They said this would give him a chance to address the Soviet people directly, over television and radio.

Commonwealth to Condemn Stubborn S. Africa Policy

Canada To Join Protest

LONDON (CP)—South Africa's 10 Commonwealth partners are reported preparing a public repudiation of that country's racial segregation policies.

The Associated Press said the sharp action was decided after other Commonwealth leaders, in informal talks with South Africa's External Affairs Minister Eric Louw, tried unsuccessfully to get a modification of his government's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

The 10 countries reported ready to disown the South African racial policies are Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, The Central African Federation, India, Pakistan, Malaysia, Ceylon and Ghana.

Senior Commonwealth officials said they would issue a declaration when the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference ends Friday.

In an effort to keep South Africa from quitting the conference, the delegates agreed to discuss the racial issue with Louw outside the formal conference sessions. But they found him unwilling to give ground.

COULD BE DROPPED

South Africa also is confronted with the possibility of being dropped from the Commonwealth if she goes ahead with plans to become a republic.

Louw sought unsuccessfully to get assurance that South Africa could hold its membership, as the Republics of India and Pakistan have done. But the other Commonwealth leaders withheld a pledge of continued membership.

Membership in the Commonwealth carries with it trade and tariff benefits worth millions a year to exporters.

Louw prepared today to meet Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations for talks on his country's controversial policies.

The South African minister was scheduled to confer with Hammarskjöld about UN Security Council's April 1 resolution condemning his country's racialism.

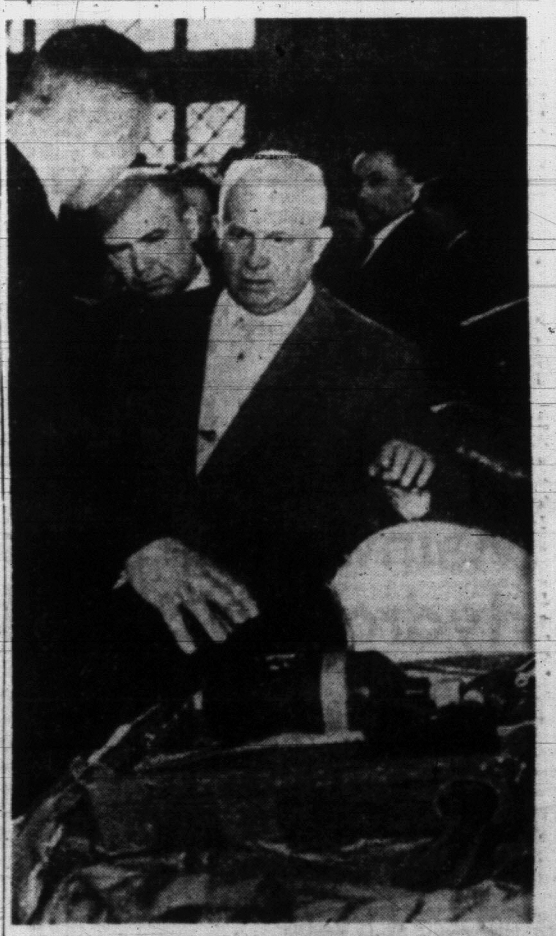

FIVE-POINT PLAN

Louw repeatedly has argued that the issue is an internal matter, and that other Commonwealth countries should not interfere.

On Wednesday 12 British politicians and public figures presented to the Commonwealth conference a five-point plan of action to fight South Africa's segregation.

Senior conference officials began drafting the final communique Wednesday. It is expected also to range over East-West relations, disarmament, a nuclear test ban and world economic and trade questions.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada is reported to have been "quietly urging" another Commonwealth prime minister to continue on Page

Pilot May Face Death Sentence

LONDON (AP)—Pilot Francis G. Powers has been charged with espionage and Nikita Khrushchev has promised: "We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

This was reported today by Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

The penalty for espionage in the Soviet Union ranges from 10 years in prison to execution by a firing squad.

The agency said Powers told interrogators: "I plead guilty to the fact that I flew over Soviet territory and over given points indictated on the route of the flight."

Tass said that in the exhibit of Powers' alleged effects is a piece of silk bearing the Stars and Stripes and an inscription in 14 languages saying: "I am an American and do not speak your language. I need food, shelter and assistance. I will not harm you. I bear no malice toward your people. If you help me you will be rewarded."

'A-Bombs Coming In First Minute'

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Premier Khrushchev has warned that the United States will get an atom bomb on its territory "in the first minute" if the Americans try to unleash a war.

The warning was made in an impromptu press conference Wednesday at an exhibition of a shot-down American reconnaissance plane.

The full quotations of Khrushchev's remarks were cleared in Moscow this afternoon—nearly 24 hours later.

Khrushchev declared State Secretary Christian Herter's statement that the flights would continue was "audacious."

ous, brazen, impudent... and a threat to peace."

"If the United States is going to unleash war and if they never have experienced an atom bomb on their territory, they certainly will in the first minute of the war."

The premier said Herter had "truly wiped off all the make-up and showed the true fangs of an imperialist."

Khrushchev added Russia has not sent and never will send its planes over the territory of any other country.

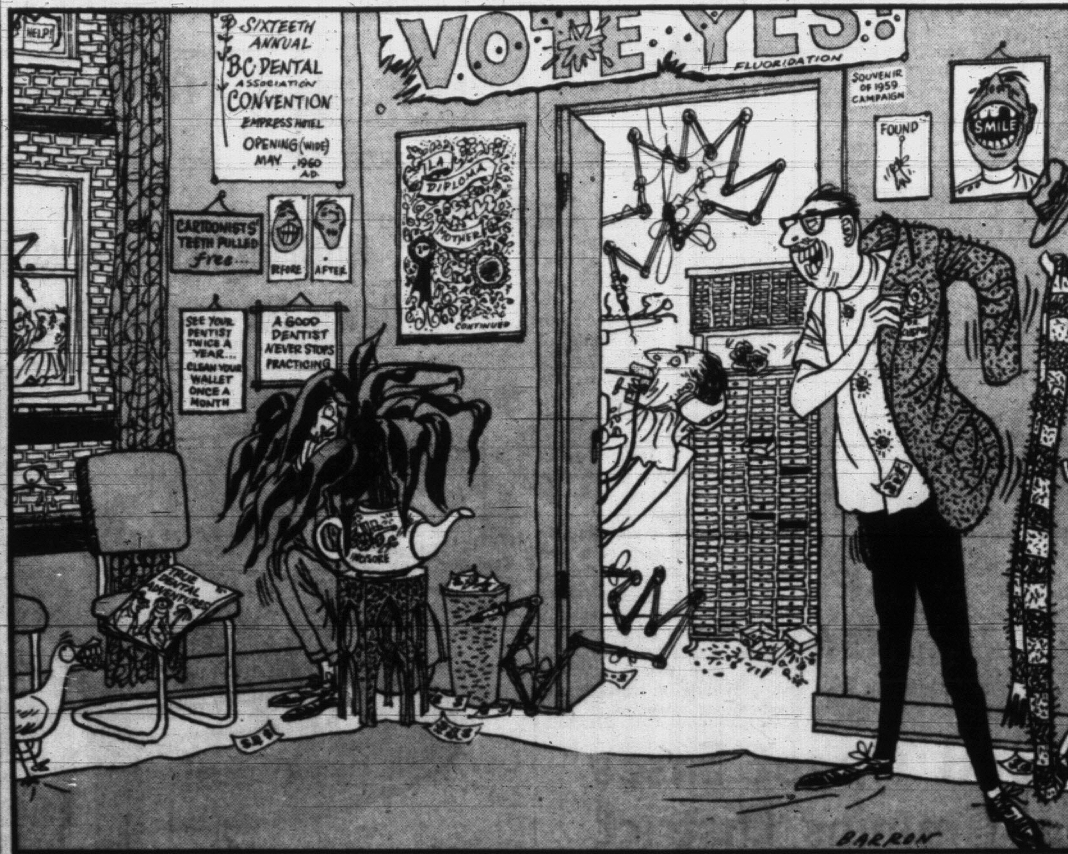

"I want to warn those people sent as spies that we will have no mercy on them," he said.

Mrs. Gorman said a federal Royal Commission should be established to determine a better educational system for Indian children.

The system should not be designed to turn Indians into white people.

"We do not want education that will turn us into second class white people; rather, we want to become first class Indians," the association's brief said.

"We want to obtain the knowledge which will enable us to live in this modern world, but we do not want to forget that we are Indians and that we are proud of it," the association said.

"I've got to run over to the convention for a while... relax, keep open wide and most important, don't swallow..."

Cubans Kill U.S. Pilot As Smuggling Trap Laid

HAVANA, Cuba, (UPI)—American pilot Matthew Edward Duke, 42, of West Palm Beach, Fla., was killed today when he ran into a Cuban army-navy ambush in an attempt to land a light plane on the outskirts of Havana to pick up two men and a woman described as "fugitives from revolutionary justice."

CUBAN MOBS IN ANTI-U.S. DISPLAYS

HAVANA (UPI)—Anti-American demonstrators carrying banners with such slogans as "Down with Yankee Imperialism" or "Death to the U.S. Senate!" tied up traffic in downtown Havana for two hours Wednesday night.

About 2,000 persons massed at the corner of San Rafael and Galliano Streets to cheer anti-American speeches by Jesus Soto, radical leftist boss of the CTC union federation, and other union leaders.

Smaller demonstrations, apparently organized by CTC locals, were reported elsewhere in the city.

Police guards armed with rifles were posted at the U.S. Embassy as an apparent precaution against mob attack, but there was no report of violence or casualties.

In Baton Rouge, La., the manager of an airplane charter service said Duke rented a plane from him last Saturday.

Government intelligence officers apparently received a tip that a plane was coming in this morning, and had stationed at least 30 crack sharpshooters from the army and navy around the landing spot on the highway.

According to these reports, the waiting troops saw the would-be passengers arrive in a car and truck and watched them duck into nearby bushes to wait for the plane.

As soon as Duke landed the plane, he was fired upon by the waiting gunners. The pilot may have been hit by the first shots. But he quickly gunned the engine and took off again. He got only a short distance off the ground when the heavy machine gun and rifle fire downed the aircraft.

The U.S. government said in Washington that Duke was one of 22 persons ordered not to make unauthorized flights to Cuba.

WILLISTON

'United Opinion' On Columbia

Canada-U.S. negotiations on hydro development of the Columbia River are being disrupted by "utterly fantastic" reports of disunity between Ottawa and British Columbia, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston said today.

He said a meeting here Saturday of federal and provincial power experts was an overture to a Canada-U.S. session next week in Washington.

There is a "united opinion" in aims for development of power resources on the Columbia in the B.C.-Ottawa talks, Mr. Williston said.

Expected here Saturday for the Columbia talks are Justice Minister Davie Fulton, External Affairs Minister Howard Green, Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton and Gen. A. L. McNaughton, Canada's representative on the International Joint Commission.

Mr. Williston, B.C. Hydro chairman Dr. Hugh Keenleyside and probably Attorney General Robert Bonner will represent B.C.

Mr. Williston said there is a gradual atmosphere of progress in the talks.

"We are working along step by step."

Bank Rate Drops

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada interest rate, declining for the fourth straight week, fell to 2.92 per cent today from 3.07 last week with the sale of $95,000,000 in 91-day government treasury bills.

Flood Aid Appeal

TIMMINS, Ont. (UPI)—Reeve John Atkinson of flood-stricken Mount Joy township today urged appeals to Canadians to help the area where damage estimates were soaring to the million-dollar mark.

'All WHL Clubs Back'

CALGARY (CP)—Western Hockey League president Al Leader hinted today that all seven clubs would be back in the circuit for the 1960-61 season. Emerging from the morning session of the WHL's annual meeting, Leader termed the meeting exceptionally good.

Trial Venue Switched

EDMONTON (CP)—Mr. Justice J. M. Cairns today granted a change in venue to Edmonton from Red Deer in the second trial of a charge of murder against Robert Raymond Cook. Cook was tried and convicted last December in Red Deer of the June 26 slaying of his father, Raymond, 53, at their Stettler home. On an appeal, a retrial was ordered.

'MILLION' $ RAIN SOAKS OKANAGAN

KELOWNA (CP)—A "million-dollar" rain drenched the Okanagan Valley early today, bringing welcome relief to orchardists and gardeners who had already started using sprinkler systems.

A total of .65 inches had fallen here by 8 a.m. today and an hour later in Vernon, to the north, the count was .81 inches. The weatherman said showers would continue throughout the day.

Due to a light snow cover, the orchard lands and gardens in the area had no reserve moisture supply.

Canada's Defence Role

By TOM GOULD
Times Ottawa Bureau
(Fifth of a Series)

OTTAWA—Submarines sitting off Canada's Pacific coastline could lob intermediate ballistic missiles at almost any target in the nation, and the same applies to the U.S.

Calgary would be an easy shot. Winnipeg would be tough, but not impossible.

This is the challenge that must be met by the U.S. and Canadian navies. What are they doing about it?

In the U.S., now, the emphasis is switching from the defence to the offence, from submarine killers, to the new Polaris submarines, nuclear subs capable of launching from 16 to 20 hydro-gen warheads at land targets.

Canada is still building destroyer-escorts, vessels that would have great difficulties in even detecting a nuclear sub, and enormous problems in destroying one.

Some Confusion

There is some confusion in RCN circles today, because no one appears certain just where it is headed. In the absence of any new policy, the government orders more DE's.

Let there be no mistake, the Canadian Navy, with a total of 62 ships, including minesweepers and auxiliaries, would not be alone in any all-out attack on North America. In the Atlantic, they would work in close co-operation with other NATO forces.

In the Pacific, there is a working arrangement that cannot be termed a formal alliance.

The DE was designed to kill submarines, and despite the advance of technology, is best suited to convoy duties, although the government insists there will never again be a requirement for convoying troops and supplies through waters infested with hostile subs.

Hunter-Killer Force

In this realization, efforts have been made to turn the RCN into what is known as a hunter-killer force, whose task it would be to seek out and destroy submarines in the event of nuclear attack.

By the application of logic, this would involve being at sea, in touch with the hostile submarine, in a position to destroy them before they could launch missiles at land targets.

The vastness of the world's oceans makes this a practical impossibility.

The navy has made valiant

NEW YORK (AP)—Nobody's knocking fisherman Richard Gimbel by saying he has a good line. He needs one, living 18 stories above Manhattan's East River.

Gimbel, an executive television producer, doesn't confine his casting to the office. Far from it. As soon as he gets to his Sutton Place apartment, he gets out his fishing rod and lets fly with 200 feet of line into the river below.

"Fishing is very practical here," he says. "My wife and I never eat what we catch; it's strictly sport. But on some Friday nights we hold fishing parties up here, and as bait we have squid, shrimp and canapés."

Gimbel, 35, says he has hoisted up dozens of eels. But he really has his mind and eye on the bass, which he knows inhabits that section of the river. So far, no luck.

Mainwaring Backs Hydro Power Pool

KELOWNA (CP)—A Pacific Northwest power pool, including all major river systems, would produce $50,000,000 more in power than individual developments, the president of Peace River Power Development Company said Wednesday.

"Integration of the power potential of the Columbia and Peace Rivers is essential if we are going to secure the maximum benefit," W. C. Mainwaring told the Kelowna Board of Trade.

He envisioned a power pool that would tie together California, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and Alberta.

The Peace River development, Mr. Mainwaring said, was essential to complement any Columbia development.

"The proposed Mica Creek project could not deliver a sustained flow of energy the year round," he said. "During storage refill months, generation will be reduced to a minimum and large amounts of secondary energy will be needed to 'firm up' that project."

'CREDIT PLAN' He proposed a scheme under which United States companies would build up "storage credits" in the Portage Mountain reservoir on the Peace.

Such a plan, he said, would net B.C. 1,000,000 kilowatts of additional firm power, without in any way affecting the amount of energy that could be generated or sold in B.C.

As to the controversy between the privately promoted Peace power and government proposed Columbia River power he said that the taxpayer would gain by private industry.

"The government has to somehow make up what it will get from us in taxes," he said.

DEFENCE MAYORS GET WARNING

Hazardous Task

At night, and in rough water, the roll of the ship makes landing or taking off an extremely hazardous undertaking, and makes the effort appear somewhat ridiculous.

Nuclear subs of modern design, according to some reports from Washington, are capable of faster underwater speeds than our DE's are able to sustain on the surface.

And they are capable of descending to a depth where they have time, while depth charges or mortars are dropping down, to run out of their path.

Navy officials concede this highly-trained force would be of little use in the event of a surprise attack by missile-launching submarines.

And they admit that in its efforts to develop a submarine-killer, the Navy has sacrificed the gunnery power that made the efforts of old-style destroyers so valuable during the Korean War.

Costly Operation

Many experts also wonder why the Navy still operates an aircraft carrier in the Atlantic, although it was found suitable for shipping Canada's UN emergency force to the Middle East. As a troop ship, an aircraft carrier is a very expensive proposition.

The reason the carrier was used as a troop ship is that Canada's army has no transport of its own capable of hauling men half way around the world at short notice. Nor has the RCAF.

The army has been kicking up a fuss for years because it has been shortchanged for new equipment.

It needs armored personnel carriers, new anti-tank weapons, helicopters, communications equipment, and, most of all, long-range air transport.

Stripped Camps

At the time of the Middle East crisis, the army was so short of gear it stripped mobile equipment from the summer camps of its reserve force.

It wasn't long ago that the last Bren Gun carrier was retired from active service, if in fact it has been retired. The army isn't too sure some of these antiques aren't still snoring around the manoeuvre grounds.

Strangely enough, it has been the Canadian Army that has borne the brunt of military activity since the Second World War. Canadian soldiers are serving in almost every part of the world.

'Cities to Bear Brunt Of Population Growth'

CHICAGO (CP)—Stewart Bates of Ottawa, president of Canada's Central Mortgage Corporation, today warned the mayors of Canada and the United States that their cities must plan now to absorb 40,000,000 more people in the next 10 years.

He addressed the first joint session of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

"No issue will likely exceed this in size and complexity—no, perhaps not even national defence—of concern with the backward areas of the world."

"Yet the techniques for handling present growth can hardly be said to be satisfactory. The issues of growth have for some time outrun local government boundaries and maybe powers."

He said: "North America

'You Have Three Choices ...'

"... Your governments inevitably are going to fashion great parts of the city as it will appear tomorrow. You have three choices. You can execute the correct functional network of roads, pipes and wires and leave questions of appearance to luck. Or you can take the opportunistic attitude to beauty. Thirdly, you can pursue beauty relentlessly as the mistress who colors and dominates all day-to-day decisions in the making of the city."

"The third approach is the one I commend to you." Bates' emphasis on the struggle for funds in municipal affairs continued a theme which dominated the first day of the conference in which the Canadian mayors met alone.

Informants said he took this initiative after it became clear the majority of the Commonwealth leaders wanted to apply sanctions to the government of South Africa.

NIKITA BACKS 'OPEN' MEET

PARIS (UPI)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has rejected a French bid to keep most of the summit talks top secret, informed sources said today.

The sources said Khrushchev wrote President de Gaulle last Monday that while some of the summit conversation should be kept secret, the Big Four should have the right to tell the press what topics have been discussed and what positions they have taken.

LUXURY LINER HAD SHADY REPUTATION

Ever wonder how the word "Posh" found its way into our language? "Posh" is another word for luxury, and its origin is an interesting one. The Pacific and Orient Steamship Line between Great Britain and the Orient used to charge a premium for cabins on the shady side of the ship.

Since the shady side was the port, or left-hand side, on the outward voyage, and the starboard, or right-hand side, when homeward bound, the cabins were referred to as Port Outward-Starboard Home, or P.O.S.H.

Words are fascinating creatures. They have so many faces. Take the word "bank," for example. It can mean the ground near a river, an establishment for the custody of money, or, when it's used as a verb, security of feeling, absolute reliability. "You can bank on it," we say.

These last two meanings bear a connection that is far from coincidental. The fact is, a bank represents security and reliability, especially the Bank of Montreal.

And, of course, saving at the Bank of Montreal doesn't only mean your money is safe. It also means that with money in the bank you can often take advantage of unexpected opportunities that might otherwise pass you by.

Protection Proposed For Small Borrower

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA — A new deal for the small borrower is the objective of a bill introduced in the Senate Wednesday by Senator David Croll (L-Ontario).

The bill would help protect borrowers against exorbitant interest rates by requiring that all charges be stated in terms of annual rates.

At present, Senator Cross said, very high interest is charged, camouflaged under a system of monthly rates. The annual rate sometimes goes to 40 per cent, he declared.

"Throughout our country glib salesmen are pitted in unfair contests against people of limited means, little or no sophistication in contract matters and, in fact, no real defence against unscrupulous dealers," he said.

People suffering from the "credit virus" can no more resist buying on time than an alcoholic can do without liquor.

Senator Croll said these people need to be protected from "misleading terminology" used by finance companies in their contracts.

"Very few buyers know or realize the rate of interest they are required to pay."

The measure has a fair chance of passing the Senate, with its top-heavy Liberal majority, but is not likely to get far in the Conservative-dominated Commons. It is similar in purpose to ones that have been introduced from time to time in the Commons by the CCF.

VOTE CHOICES

Bennett Has To Sept. 10 To Decide

By FRANK RUTTER
Times Political Reporter
Premier Bennett must reveal his election plans before Sept. 10 this year — or test his strength with an Oak Bay by-election.

Although the premier is not forced to call a general election before Oct. 24 next year, Oak Bay will make him give something away soon.

Sept. 10 is the deadline for issuing a writ for the by-election in the seat vacant since the death of Liberal M.L.A. P. A. Gibbs.

All the official steps have been taken by the government — up to issuing the by-election writ.

Sept. 10 is exactly six months after Speaker Hugh Shantz notified the deputy provincial secretary in writing of the vacancy. In turn chief electoral officer Frank Hurley was notified by the deputy.

The six-month period is the maximum delay under the Constitution Act between a vacancy occurring and a by-election.

If the Oak Bay vote goes ahead, polling day would be within a maximum 60 days of the writ being issued — that means the latest it could be held would be Nov. 10.

There's a minimum of 38 days between issuing the writ and polling day for a general election.

"No man or woman — least of all one who professes to be a disciple of Christ — can be content to enjoy the comforts of home life while hundreds of thousands of men, women and children are living without homes and without hope, in want, suffering, neglect and misery."

DOUGLAS... favorite ARGUE... ambitious KNOWLES... top secure? LEWIS... twice-beaten

FOUR LIKELY CANDIDATES

Who'll Be Boss of New Party?

OTTAWA (CP) — Who will lead Canada's new, as yet unborn, left-of-centre political party?

The question, a hesitant whisper during the preliminary labor-CCF courtship, is becoming louder and more insistent as the time approaches for the actual marriage of the two forces into a new people's party.

Four men are generally considered in the running but others might emerge before the party's founding convention next year in Ottawa. The four are:

T. C. (Tommy) Douglas, premier of Saskatchewan, head of Canada's only in-office CCF government, a former Baptist minister, one-time printer's devil in Winnipeg.

Hazen Argue, 39, House leader of the eight-man CCF band in Parliament, a Saskatchewan wheat farmer with a string of election victories since 1945, only Prairie CCF MP to be re-elected in the last federal election.

Stanley Knowles, 51, CCF pioneer and former Winnipeg MP, once a United Church minister, now executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress, central body of organized labor.

David Lewis, 50, Toronto lawyer, national president of the CCF, a key figure in the CCF-labor braintrust, currently sitting as union nominee on a three-man conciliation board seeking settlement of the big railway-union dispute over wage increases worth $65,000,000 a year for 120,000 CPR and CNR workers.

While many Canadian unions and some of the most talented union leaders are solidly behind the new party, none of the top, well-known labor chiefs has been mentioned so far as a leadership possibility.

Jodoin Doubtful
Certainly, the best known of all — CLC President Claude Jodoin, who says he'll hold the No. 1 party card in the new movement — is not expected to be interested.

While helping guide Canadian labor toward the new party he also has maintained the CLC's independence from it, defending the right of the 1,150,000-member congress to criticize the new group.

Of the four mentioned, there is almost complete unanimity on Premier Douglas, one of the country's outstanding political orators — if he would stand for the rigorous and risky office.

Facing a provincial election next month, his immediate future is in the hands of the voters.

A big question mark is whether at 55 he is robust enough to tackle the formidable job of mentor, maker and master of a fledgling party dedicated to social reform in Canada.

Main CCF Voice

Mr. Argue, astute, ambitious, young and healthy, has in his favor the fact that he is CCF's main voice in federal politics, a voice not unnoticed among the welter of Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. Lewis, Polish-born Rhodes Scholar, one-time national secretary of the CCF, now a successful barrister, was an unsuccessful candidate twice. Observers are unsure whether he would be willing to plunge into active politics once more.

Mr. Knowles, defeated in 1958 after 16 years in the Commons, has a secure and influential job with the CLC — a $12,000-a-year post as executive vice-president and a leading father figure behind the formation of the new party.

He may aspire to the leadership, say observers, but it is uncertain whether he would abandon the security for the fickle political field.

Initiative for a new party, aimed at placing a new labor-farmer-CCF alliance with "liberally-minded" people into federal and provincial politics, came from the CLC more than two years ago.

Last month in Montreal, the CLC threw its weight overwhelmingly behind the party, its biennial convention cheering the formal decision to call a founding convention and step into party politics. Next move is up to the CCF party at its convention in Regina Aug. 9-11, when the main item will be a similar approval of a founding convention.

CCF policy-makers hope to make the conference a positive stepping-stone toward the new party — soft-peddalling any self-conscious tendency to consider the gathering as sort of a swan song for the left-wing party that grew out of the depression.

UNIONS TAKE OVER ANTI-CASTRO PAPER

HAVANA (AP) — Pro-government unions early Wednesday seized Diario de la Marina, Cuba's oldest newspaper and the loudest critic of Premier Fidel Castro and his regime.

The 125-year-old morning paper was taken over by the Graphic Arts Union and the National College of Newspaper Workers, spearheads of the campaign to bring the Cuban press completely behind Castro.

A spokesman for the newspaper management said officials of the two unions said they were "intervening" at the paper because "its counter-revolutionary position could no longer be tolerated in the national interest."

Over the Second Hurdle

THE WEST VIRGINIA PRIMARY election gave Senator John Kennedy an excellent chance of becoming the next president of the United States. But despite his local victory over a weak rival, Senator Humphrey, he still faces a doubtful and divided Democratic convention in Los Angeles. His success in West Virginia undoubtedly will drive his opponents together to prevent his nomination.

From the beginning Senator Kennedy's strategy has been clear and it has worked perfectly. Knowing that his party is hesitant to nominate a Roman Catholic, he has used the primaries to demonstrate that religious feelings would not damage him with the national electorate.

In Wisconsin he won, but not decisively, against Senator Humphrey, from neighboring Minnesota, and he won mainly with Roman Catholic votes.

In West Virginia he faced an electorate which is said to be 95 per cent Protestant. It took courage to enter this election for if he had lost it Senator Kennedy would have been eliminated from the party nomination. The Los Angeles convention would have judged that no Catholic would win in a predominantly Protestant nation.

But Senator Kennedy has proved that he can win in an overwhelmingly Protestant state and can argue at Los Angeles that he will repeat his victory in the presidential election. The old religious taboo, which defeated the last Catholic candidate, Al Smith, in 1928, has disappeared, Senator Kennedy will say.

It is essential to his final strategy, however, that he go to Los Angeles with the nomination virtually assured in advance, with fifty per cent of the convention votes, or nearly that number, in his pocket. For if he cannot be nominated on the first or second ballots the powerful candidates opposed to him—Senator Lyndon Johnson, Senator Stuart Symington and Mr. Adlai Stevenson—will certainly unite against him by accepting a compromise candidate.

If Senator Kennedy cannot be quickly nominated who is to be the compromise? Senator Humphrey having been eliminated in West Virginia, and Senator Johnson being a southerner with dubious strength in the north, the two most likely alternatives are Senator Symington and Mr. Stevenson.

The former has the support of Mr. Harry Truman, the latter of many grass-roots Democrats who see him as the ablest man in the party. But all these candidates must have been shaken by Senator Kennedy's victory in West Virginia which none of them expected. It may be too late to stop the Kennedy bandwagon, now rolling toward Los Angeles.

When the Democratic Party is the majority party—as demonstrated by recent Congressional elections—it might be thought that the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in November. So it may turn out but it is by no means assured now.

Mr. Nixon is a strong candidate, perhaps stronger in his electoral appeal than his party, he has the blessing of President Eisenhower and he has not yet begun to fight. Once he is formally nominated we shall hear much more from Mr. Nixon, and probably many policies quite different, at least in emphasis, from those of Mr. Eisenhower.

Meanwhile how seriously has the spy plane fiasco affected Mr. Nixon's chances? And how will they be affected by a sense of failure to achieve any results at the Summit after this deplorable overture? For the answer to such questions the nation and the world must wait until November.

Oak Bay's Candidate

REGARDLESS OF PARTISAN considerations, it is a good omen for British Columbia politics when they can attract a fine young man like Mr. Alan Macfarlane as a potential successor to the late Mr. Archie Gibbs in Oak Bay. Whatever party they may come from, we need candidates of this age and quality.

To a busy lawyer like Mr. Macfarlane, and the son of a distinguished jurist, the entry into politics is bound to be a sacrifice of money, time and convenience, but if men of his sort refuse to make it we cannot hope to improve our public life. And few voters, we imagine, will say that our public life in British Columbia does not urgently require improvement.

Elections in recent years have proved mathematically that a majority of people in British Columbia—and most notably in Oak Bay—are opposed to the Bennett Government. That majority, however, has been so fractured by the three parties of opposition that the Government has divided and conquered.

But in Oak Bay the voters opposed to the Government united behind Mr. Gibbs, as the best candidate available, and elected him. There the powerful Social Credit machine has always failed.

Mr. Macfarlane says he is running for the Legislature simply because, as a citizen and a native son of Oak Bay, he can no longer stomach the sort of politics we have been receiving from the Bennett Government.

In Mr. Macfarlane voters could hardly find a better man to represent their wish for a better public life. Having fought for his country in the war, he is prepared to fight for what he considers its true interests in peace.

The people of Oak Bay, we believe, will find him an excellent representative of their interests and people in other ridings will be glad to see that a young man untouched by old political battles and already a leader in many community works is ready to serve the public where it needs most to be served, in the Legislature.

Condemned by Labor

PREMIER CASTRO OF CUBA seems to have persuaded his people that any criticism of his regime in the United States comes from "imperialists," war mongers and the enemies of the poor. But Dr. Castro can hardly say that of the largest American labor organization, the AFL-CIO, which has formally condemned him in bitter terms.

The AFL-CIO is not content merely to denounce the Cuban Government. It urges the hemispheric Organization of American States to take action against this Government because it is totalitarian, has denied the workers' right to collective bargaining, has abolished elections, suspended civil rights and destroyed the freedom of the press.

CANADIAN TOURISTS SPEND almost $100 millions a year more in the United States than American visitors spend here. The remedy seems obvious: to attract more tourists to this country.

In this connection, there should be strong British Columbia support for a move to open a federal Government publicity bureau in San Francisco. It had been expected that last year's appropriations would include a modest sum for this purpose—something in the nature of $35,000.

This was not done, although similar offices in New York and Chicago have been of material help in bringing visitors to eastern and central Canada.

Even if operated in connection with some existing Canadian office, a San Francisco bureau might do much to encourage visitors to western Canada. It is to be hoped the federal Government will take another look at the proposal, which promises considerable return for a comparatively small outlay.

Rebellion of the Customers: Let's Get Prices Down

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

MR. GEORGE L. WILCOX, president of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, sees in this country "a customer rebellion against domestic prices."

He also sees that this rebellion cannot be stamped out by the simple act of raising the tariff and excluding relatively cheap foreign goods. The Canadian customers, says Mr. Wilcox, are in revolt against Canadian goods and buying cheaper imports because Canada has failed to hand on the advantages of modern technology to the consuming public.

The productivity of the Canadian economic system as a whole has been increased in the last 15 years by about 3 per cent annually on average. All things being equal, prices in general could have been proportionately reduced. Of course, all things were not equal.

Among other factors, our prices were raised by the higher cost of imports from nations suffering, as we were, from inflation and also by wage costs rising much faster than productivity. In some cases, too, management expected excessive profits.

THE largest part of the gain in productivity was not handed on to the consumer in the form of lower, or even stable prices, but to the wage earner in the form of wages and various fringe benefits while prices steadily advanced.

In the short run this represented a gain for the wage earner, if he was one of those whose wages increased faster than prices. But as Mr. Wilcox says, the worker now faces the danger of long-run losses.

For the Canadian consumer, who could not escape high Canadian prices up to recent years, can now buy cheaper foreign goods, as overseas suppliers are back in the world market, and he is buying them in large quantity even after they have paid the Canadian tariff.

Some of the consequences can be seen in recent statistics. The nation's total production doubled between 1950 and 1957 but the output of Canadian manufacturers rose by only 41 per cent. In 1946, the first post-war year, 67 per cent of our imports were fully manufactured. The figure is now 78 per cent.

THAT is one side of the customers' rebellion against Canadian prices. There is another side, represented by another figure. More than half a million Canadians are out of work in what the Government considers a boom year. They cannot sell their labor, because Canada cannot sell its maximum output of goods and services either at home or abroad.

Yet in the face of such figures and the obvious facts cited by Mr. Wilcox, Parliament is told by Mr. Churchill that there is no truth in the fear that Canada may be pricing itself out of its markets, since its exports are rising.

Certainly they are rising but not nearly fast enough to serve the needs of export industries expanding still faster. And meanwhile Canadian manufacturers are pricing themselves out of our own domestic market.

THE reaction of many manufacturers to the customers' rebellion is old and familiar. Let us increase the tariff, they say, keep out cheap foreign goods and all will be well. This theory is raising its voice in Parliament and business more stridently all the time.

A few days ago Parliament listened to the ancient argument all over again from Mr. Earl Rowe, last survivor—unrevised and unrepentant—of the Bennett Government. Mr. V. W. Scully, president of the Steel Company of Canada, repeated it with some new trimmings in a recent address. We shall hear more of the same from now on. But not from Mr. Wilcox.

As reported in The Toronto Globe and Mail, he sees no remedy in higher tariffs for the customers' rebellion. The solution, he says, is as simple as the law of supply and demand—Canadian industry must give the customers the prices they are prepared to pay.

If our prices cannot be made more competitive at home and abroad the worker will be the chief victim whether tariffs are raised or not. By excluding foreign goods we can easily hold the Canadian market for our own factories but as against this gain we shall suffer two disproportionate losses: First, a general rise in prices to all consumers, mainly workers, and second, a loss of export markets as our foreign customers retaliate, with more unemployment in the export industries.

The economic facts are plain enough. The real problem is to make them understood by management, labor and the public.

It is good to see at least one intelligent industrialist refusing to accept the defeatist theory of import restriction and determined to meet the customers' rebellion by striking at its real cause. The cause is an excessive price level.

FROM WASHINGTON

The United States Sets the New Line: Spying is a Must

By MAX FREEDMAN

AN abrupt change has taken place in the comment of United States officials on the plane engaged in espionage over Soviet territory. American policy has now entered the third phase. At first there was the denial of espionage. Then the State Department offered its public apology and explanation. Now the officials have boldly gone on the offensive in an attempt to pluck some advantage from the whole affair.

They seem particularly annoyed by criticisms of the United States in the British press. They say that the British people have no right to be critical in view of their own record in espionage.

They recall that in June 1957 Lt. Commander Lionel Crabb, the frogman, was found as a headless corpse in circumstances at once mysterious and humiliating. He had disappeared in April 1956 while three Russian warships were visiting Portsmouth harbor. Prime Minister Eden refused to explain how Commander Crabb had died.

Like the British in this earlier episode, the Americans are now saying that the one unforgivable thing in espionage is to break the eleventh commandment by being caught in the very act of spying.

The critical reception given to the State Department's claim that no one in Washington had authorized this particular flight across Russia or even knew about it has compelled a new line to be followed in official statements.

Leaders of Congress have received confidential briefings in the attempt to moderate the criticisms. Enough is known of these explanations to indicate the new line.

It is frankly conceded that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Herter knew in a general way of these espionage activities, since discussions at the National Security Council often are based on information gathered by these activities. There seems no reason, however, to question the claim that neither Mr. Eisenhower nor Mr. Herter ever signed an order establishing the espionage system or allowing the flights along the Communist borders to take place.

As head of the Central Intelligence Agency, Mr. Allan Dulles is responsible for the supervision of all espionage. But he has no direct authority or control over the pilots and personnel in the armed services.

The American Ambassador in each country is technically responsible for all espionage conducted in his territory but in practice this role is purely nominal. The budget of the Central Intelligence Agency is carefully disguised by having many of its expenditures distributed through other agencies.

For example, Congress supported the weather research activities of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency without knowing that Mr. Dulles would use these planes for espionage.

This particular disclosure has caused embarrassment and concern not only to Mr. Dulles but also to Mr. Herter. Three of the grounded US weather planes are based in Japan. Critics of the Japanese Mutual Security Treaty with the United States say these planes have been used to fly on dangerous missions along the Chinese border, missions which might provoke retaliatory bombing on Japan itself.

The repercussions from the plane incident are world wide and show no early sign of being forgotten.

Mr. Powers, the captured American pilot, broke the code of honor and the precise instructions which govern American espionage agents. He was under orders to press a button, if the plane were sighted and hit, that would disintegrate the entire plane and destroy all its equipment. He failed to touch this button.

Instead, after being hit, he turned the injured plane towards the earth and then jumped out himself in a parachute. He failed to use the pistol, the syringe injector, and the pills which are all provided to make suicide an escape from capture and confession.

Defence Department officials have told members of Congress that the rocket which shot down the plane does not signify that Russia has a better defensive system than the United States. They say the United States can do at least as well.

They then point to the high quality camera equipment in the captured American plane—equipment praised by Mr. Khrushchev himself—and that similar and in some cases superior equipment has allowed the United States to gather valuable secret information about Russia's military strength.

It is this information, they add, which has enabled the Eisenhower Administration to insist that there is no dangerous missile gap favoring the Soviet Union as against the United States.

In short, the new line is that the United States will continue its espionage, though with greater prudence, until Russia opens up its territory to an agreed system of disarmament control under international auspices in return for similar concessions by Washington.

Soft Approach

It is most disturbing to every one when our leaders are guilty of childish nonsense. To justify ourselves in a soft approach to the African question is erroneous, for it may bring accusations of being an accomplice.

There are no two sides to truth (harsh nor soft) nor can we enlighten the Verwoerds in their acts, for they are evil, cunning, premeditated ones, against aspirations of a human race, justifying themselves by some sort of reformed church.

To suggest that the "soft approach" policy is best in the name of measurable dollar trade, to that of immeasurable world opinion, prestige and eventually the dollar trade in the world for championing the light of truth, is childish indeed.

Between the Lines

The Daily Times of April 18 carried an editorial under the caption "Rich Men's Pensions" which is to say the least—unworthy of that great liberal paper.

All thinking people know that there is something desperately unjust—or inhuman—in the administration of all so-called "welfare" here in Canada. If the object, in the first place, had been really to help the needy, there never could have been built the appalling bureaucracy that has now evolved to form another still thicker parasitical stratum on society.

The simple plan that could have been devised was to have given the elder citizens a pension—beyond a mere existence level—that would be for all the aged, and small income group, who are not able to pay an income tax—but who have struggled both through the awful depression and two wars, and who were unable to "cash" in on the latter, or to amass fortunes as could the "dollar" a year men, and others of the hierarchy.

The same editorial states that "our" system makes no distinction between "our" citizens, and never pries into their private affairs; O fie, Editor, intelligent people read the newspapers, and "between the lines."

Money for Housing

Mr. Leslie Bates, the assistant manager of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation in Victoria stated in the Times of May 3 that he does not believe that the building industry is heading for a slump. Mr. Bates and Mr. Dowling, the manager, know very well the house building industry is already in a terrible slump and that many men are unemployed.

The local office of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation is making every excuse to turn down loan applications. I am quite sure they have instructions not to lend money, at the same time pretending Ottawa has money to lend. Mr. Bates's statement that he believes conventional loan money at 7 per cent will take up the slack is humbug. He knows and everybody knows that conventional loans are only 60 per cent and how many people have the other $3,000 or $6,000 down payment on a new house. Without an NHA loan only the rich can build.

Why not be honest Mr. Dowling and admit that Ottawa is too broke to lend money on housing, although they have plenty for useless Bomarc bases. We want work not pious cant.

So-Called Arthritis Cures

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

One of the sad features of medicine is that common diseases for which we have no definite cure are always being treated by quacks, and by enthusiasts who feel that they have discovered some sort of a cure.

Alvarez

All a man has to do to sell a quarter of a million books is to get out a volume in which he claims he has the secret of curing let us say, arthritis. It distressed the experts of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation when a recent survey showed that each year now some $250,000,000 are being spent on medicines and diets which we doctors all know have no value. We don't blame people who are desperate for wanting to try something—anything—but it is too bad that they are wasting such enormous sums of money for which they get no return.

I know that for writing this column I will get a number of letters from people who will say, "You're absolutely wrong—I took somebody's diet," or "I took vinegar and honey," or "I sat in a uranium mine" or "I got injected with some expensive medicine" that (supposedly) came from Russia, and my joints are better."

Unfortunately, such letters leave an old doctor unimpressed. He knows that if he were to try the medicine on 10 persons, none would be helped. The trouble is that one of the hardest things to do in this world is to decide if a medicine has any value. One trouble is that a disease, let us say, fibrositis, which each year is likely to make sore and painful the victim's joints, practically always lets up in days or weeks or months, even if the man makes no change in his diet, and takes no medicine.

This is why what happened to one person does not impress me at all. I would want to take 100 patients, treat half of them with the supposed new medicine and give the other half an empty pill. The patients would not know which pill they got, and the doctor who worked up the statistics also would not know. After the report was written, the secret code would be gotten out of the safe, and then it might be found that 30 per cent of those people who got the empty pill were delighted with their results, and 28 per cent of those who got the new medicine thought it was good. Evidently, it was of no value whatsoever.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Like Father, Like Son

LONDON—Funny how things come around full circle. . . .

I went with Mac up to Berkhamsted for his return to boarding school for the summer term.

We had left the house reeking of that smell which is such an essential part of the English summer getting under way—linseed oil.

He had to have a new cricket bat, of course, for his first cricket term at Berkhamsted and out came the old bottle of linseed oil. "Four applications spread over four days before the bat is used."

Up by train through Hertfordshire, with the people digging away in their back gardens, the daffodils and tulips almost finished now and the forsythia, lilac and wallflower taking over. Past the little stations with their so-English names such as Kings Langley and Hemel Hempstead. At Berkhamsted we dumped Mac's gear at the school among the New Boys.

Hundreds of people want to know what to do for itching of the groin. Sometimes these patients have to see three or four types of specialists. First, there should be a general examination, preferably by an internist, to make sure that the person is not suffering from diabetes or Hodgkin's disease or any other general disease; in which there can be a widespread itching.

With cases of diabetes, the sugary urine can be irritating. Women should often have a gynecologist check them to see if there is any disease which can cause itching.

Sometimes the man who can help most is a dermatologist, or skin specialist, who can try soothing drugs. A neurologist or a psychiatrist or a physician who is interested in neuroses will ask about worries and nervous strains and anxieties. Occasionally, a rectal specialist should look at the anus to see if there is anything wrong there. Even after all these studies are made, it may be hard to decide what should be done.

A while ago, when, after an extensive review of the literature on Mongolism I stated that for the last 30 years experts have felt sure there was some inherited factor, I received some violent letters from people who accused me of gross ignorance. They said that the disease is due to the advanced age of the mother.

This, of course, is a factor, but obviously it isn't the important factor because any number of mongoloid children are born to young mothers. Also, in almost all cases in which a mongoloid infant has an unlike twin, this twin is not mongoloid, as it would have been if the mother's age were the important factor.

I won't here mention all of the many other facts which point to a genetic factor; all I will say is that recently a number of workers (particularly P. A. Jacobs, A. G. Balkie, W. M. Court Brown and J. A. Strong, London Lancet, No. 7075) have found that the cells of mongoloids have an extra chromosome. This fact can explain most of the known observations in regard to mongolism, and it can relieve the minds of all those many parents of mongoloids who, for years, suffer terribly, blaming themselves for what happened. Actually, now, it appears that a mongoloid was formed at the moment of conception. Usually there are no other mongoloids in the immediate family of a mongoloid, but there are families in which there are as many as four such children.

After a stroll around the town he came with me to the station for me to get the train back and we bumped into a batch of boys getting off a train that had just arrived.

"There he is!" said Mac, pointing out one of the boys, who looked additionally dashing with a guitar slung over his shoulder.

It was the boy whom we'll call Benson. I had always wanted to get a look at him because I'd been at the school with his father.

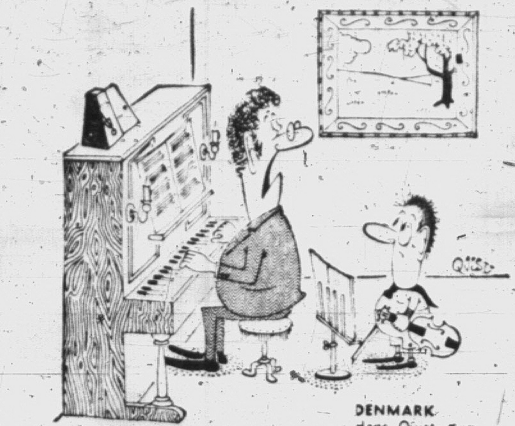

"He's a real terror, that Benson," laughed Mac. "Last term he got hauled over the coals for wearing drain-pipe trousers, the sort Teddy-boys wear."

That certainly carried me back, because Benson was the terror of the school when I was there.

He, too, got a dressing-down for wearing trousers that didn't conform to the school uniform.

But it just shows you how things change from generation to generation. He wasn't bawled out for wearing pants that were too narrow. His were too wide—the famous "Oxford bags" of the 1920s.

Japan Crisis Mounts Over Spy Plane Issue

TOKYO (AP)—Japan has entered a period of crisis in its efforts to ratify its new security alliance with the United States.

The ratification could fail and Premier Kishi could lose his job. Japan could be sent drifting toward neutrality.

These are the possible—though still not expected—consequences of the worldwide furor kicked up by the American U-2 jet plane downed in the Soviet Union. Three such planes are stationed in Japan.

The fight over the security pact, which would continue American bases here for at least 10 more years, was critical even before the plane incident. Violent demonstrations have been staged since last November. Socialist attacks in parliament have reached a bit-ter stage.

Leftists of all shades want Japan neutralized in the cold war. The downed jet gives the Socialist party explosive ammunition to convince the public that the alliance with America will get Japan into war.

Kishi, chief backer of the pact, has a sufficient 288 votes for ratification to the com-

Peace River Power May End Like Frobisher-Strachan

A parallel between the Peace River power project and the ill-fated Frobisher development of the mid-fifties was drawn Wednesday by CCF leader Robert Strachan.

Mr. Strachan told a meeting in Haney that the Frobisher plan for vast development of the Nass River—"to employ thousands"—fell flat after an election campaign in 1956.

He suggested the same fate might befall the Peace River project.

Early in 1959 Premier W. A. C. Bennett told the legislature that the $2.5 million Frobisher deposit had been returned and the project to develop the Taku-Yukon drainage area dropped.

He said it was "due to planning difficulties consequent on federal legislation and to related international complications."

Mr. Strachan said promises before the 1956 election which returned the Social Credit party to greater-than-ever-power were "hucksterism."

He said lack-of-markets and finances contributed to the death of the Frobisher plan.

For the next election we have the Peace River project, and the same political dishonesty "and hucksterism" is Nass River. But eventually working overtime," said Mr. Strachan.

The public had been misled to believe the project would start soon, he said, but Peace president W. C. Mainwaring had put off his application to the Public Utilities Commission until at least September—and probably after an election.

"And then not at all if they find themselves in the same situation as the Nass project." The Frobisher project started out as a $270 million development of the Yukon River. Plans were changed to a $30 million development of the

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

Plant in Showers, Weed in Sun

There have been a number of complaints heard about the weather this spring. We had such a mild winter that many gardeners are looking for a strong contrast in order to realize where winter ended and spring began.

Too many of us feel that gardening is something to be done only on a last Monday afternoon. The results of our efforts really made the transplants suffer. Lying limp and flat, they gave the impression of utter misery.

shower, and sufficient wind to dry the soil surface rapidly, make an ideal combination for the spring gardening jobs.

The past three weeks have given us many perfect days for dividing, transplanting, and setting out.

The seedlings and divisions have suffered little wilting, and the soil has been warm enough to encourage rapid re-establishment of the damaged root systems.

In contrast, the 73 degrees of last Monday afternoon really made the transplants suffer. Lying limp and flat, they gave the impression of utter misery.

There is a lot of sound common sense in the old gardening saying: Plant in the shower and weed in the sun.

Sunny days are ideal for weeding. The soil surface is dry and does not cake to the fingers, and the weeds quickly wilt and lose all desire to take root again.

There is usually some phase of gardening to suit each type of weather, even to reading books, and seed catalogues when the blizzard is howling outside.

The results of our efforts really made the transplants suffer. Lying limp and flat, they gave the impression of utter misery.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

LONDON—Conway Twitty came to London and made some people forget about the wedding of that Jones woman.

Some people were looking for almost anything to help them forget it.

"I have just invented a Twittyburger," Conway Twitty announced to me when I met him at the bar in Siegie's Club, which is the Toots Shor's of London.

"A Twittyburger," explained the good-looking young American singer, "is sort of a sandwich." A fierce look of hunger came into his eyes.

"You take some chopped charcoal-broiled meat, put on that a layer of toasted cheese, and on that a layer of sliced pineapple."

SO LONG

"Goodbye now," said somebody with a weak stomach, wobbling out.

"You put on that," Conway Twitty went on, "some deep-fried batter, then add four slices of crisp golden-brown bacon."

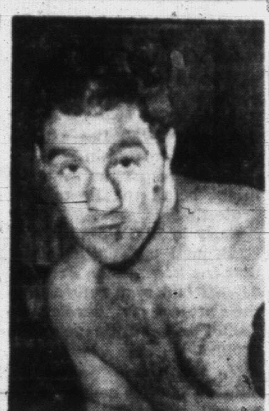

A couple of Britishers dropped out, looking ill.

"That's daggone good, and you could stop right there," added Conway Twitty, "but I like to add some lettuce or mayonnaise, mustard, tomato and dill pickle, then press it so it's real thin."

NAMED BY MANAGER

Travelling with Conway Twitty was his manager, Don Seat, who gave Conway Twitty the name of Twitty.

"I had run across the name of Twitty and I couldn't wait to get some artist to hang it on," Seat said. "Twitty's square moniker was Harold Jenkins. Twitty seemed OK to him. He found Conway on the

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Ricky Pompili, aged 11, of Chester, Penn., for the question:

What Are Living Cells?

Put a penny on your hand and draw a pencil line around it. Remove the penny and look at the smooth skin inside the circle. A microscope would show that piece of skin to be made up of about two million living cells. The body of a grown person may contain a million billion cells. Most of them are living and even the non-living hair, nails and tooth enamel were made by living cells.

Every plant and every animal is composed of these busy little units of life. Most, but not all living cells are too small for our eyes to see. The yolk of a bird's egg is a single cell. The yolk of an ostrich egg is a single cell three inches wide. Certain nerve cells in the body may be six feet long, though these branches are finer than the finest spider web.

The simplest living things are but one single cell. The amoeba and his relatives are one-celled animals. It may take 2,500 of these little fellows to measure one inch. The bacteria, yeasts and algae are single-celled plants. Even these tiny forms of life show differences between the plant and animal world.

The amoeba has features which appear throughout the animal world. It is clothed in a cell wall of soft, fine membrane or skin. This membrane lets in liquids which may be useful to the amoeba and keeps out many things that are harmful. The cells in your hand are also soft. You can pinch them and they spring back into position.

They have thin elastic walls which let in nourishing liquids and give out waste materials.

A bacterium is clothed in a cell wall of rather stiff material. The cells which make up a woody tree are encased in a stiff material called cellulose. Under the microscope, these plant cells look like tightly packed little boxes.

Cell Must Care for Itself

Though plant cell walls let certain liquids in and out, they are not pliable. If you pinch a plant or a leaf, its cells will not spring back into position like the elastic cells in your hand.

A one-celled plant must be able to feed itself, digest its food and multiply. It must do everything for itself. But no cell in your body could exist by itself. It is part of a vast hive of cells all living and working together. Like a city of busy people, some cells specialize in one task and some in another. The cells are different in shape, depending upon the work they have to do.

Altogether, your body has about 50 different types of living cells. A brain cell may be a ragged shape with many fine branches. A muscle cell is often long and thin, tapered at each end. Some of the busiest cells are the little red corpuscles which float in the blood.

Andy sends a Hammond's Library World Atlas to Robert Nadeau, age 11, of Old Forge, N.Y., for his question: How does a volcano form? The roots of a volcano are

Ex-Internees Given Homes In Kootenay

Japanese-Canadians who were interned during the Second World War have been given the Kootenay area homes in which they have lived since 1942.

The B.C. government, by an order-in-council approved this week, has turned over 88 lots in New Denver to the 100 occupants on the site of what was once an internment camp.

In 1951 most of the 7,000 Japanese internees moved eastward. But some, many of them elderly, stayed in the New Denver orchard area.

Now, after some repairs, the province is handing over the homesites, charging only a routine land registration fee.

DOCTORS SCORED

Strike Against Community

TORONTO (CP)—United Steelworkers Union (CLC) officials have accused Kirkland Lake doctors of a "strike against the community" to defeat the union's prepaid medical plan that now covers 14,000 people.

The union said the mine community's 18 doctors in smashing the plan are leaving 1,000 families without coverage and another 3,500 miners paying double premiums for inferior coverage under a private program.

Monday the Ontario Medical Association confirmed reports of a deadlock between the union and doctors at Sault Ste. Marie over a similar plan being proposed for the Soo district.

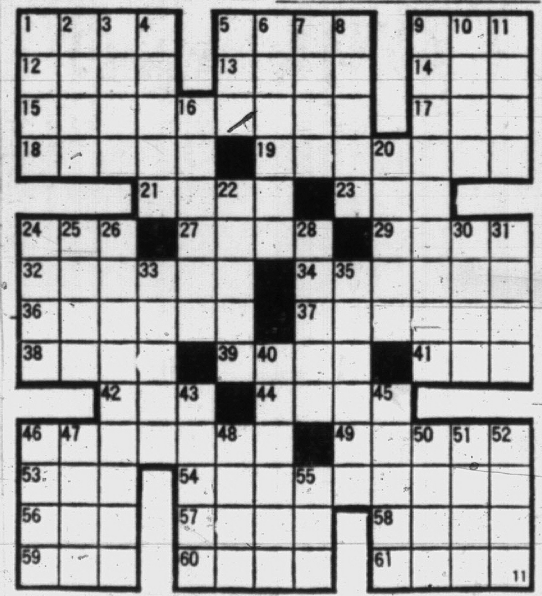

OMA president Dr. W. W. Baldwin invited officials of the union and Algoma Steel Corporation to try to iron out the differences.

Murray Cotterill, Canadian public relations director of the union said doctors in Kirkland Lake had served notice they will scrap the prepaid medical program June 1 because they consider it "unethical."

Communist Plot In the Congo?

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (Reuters)—The government announced Wednesday that police have uncovered "an affair affecting the security of the state."

DOCKYARD LAYOFF

Jobless Total Pushed Up By Students

Continued layoffs at HMC Dockyard, construction cut-backs and increased number of job-hunting students have raised unemployment figures in the Victoria area over the same period last year.

Local officials of the Unemployment Insurance Commission said numbers of local unemployed workers were relatively higher than on the mainland because of the dockyard and student problem.

Figures for the Pacific Region effective March 17 show a total of 77,309 registrations at NES offices.

This represents a drop of 2,776 from the previous month but an increase of 2,976 over last year's total for March.

The Vancouver office of the region said that despite the slightly higher number of job registrations this year than last, there are 8,000 more people employed than during the corresponding month a year ago.

A record total of 908,000 tons of fertilizer was sold in Canada in 1958, an increase of four per cent over the previous year.

Informed sources said the government claimed to have proof of a plot of Communists in the Congo in collusion with the World Federation of Trade Unions.

The official announcement said police had carried out searches in different parts of the country, seizing documents and questioning several people.

"Important developments in this affair can be expected," the announcement added. The Congo Republic became independent of French colonial rule in 1958.

MASS EVACUATION

In the Belgian Congo, meanwhile, hundreds of Belgian families are making hurried arrangements to leave, as violence and disorder mount on the eve of the colony's independence at the end of June.

Belgian airlines have 80 special flights chartered to leave for Europe between now and July. Shipping lines report record waiting lists and record bookings from Congo as well as neighboring ports.

Many of the estimated 80,000 Belgian residents in the Congo are staying because of currency restrictions clamped down in March after capital had flown out of the country at a rate of 1,000,000,000 francs (about $20,000,000 a month), draining the banks to danger level.

All but a few of the 10,000 missionaries working in mission stations and schools throughout the 1,000,000 square miles of the Congo's sweltering forests and bush are expected to stay.

TRAFFIC FINES

BUSINESS VIEWS

Bleak Picture
In Housing
Starts, Loans

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

Some of the saddest literature this side of Uncle Tom's Cabin is being published these days by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Each month CMHC produces statistics on the state of home building; unoccupied houses and mortgage loans for the preceding month. The April edition, besides proving figures don't lie, drips with pathos for members of the construction industry as well as for anyone concerned with housing and the vital role it has played in our economy.

Look at these key statistics: National Housing Act loans approved in April (with April, 1959 totals in brackets): B.C., 49 loans for $574,074 (512 loans for $6,170,627); metropolitan Vancouver, 13 loans for $153,277 (325 for $4,261,828); met. Victoria, 14 loans for $172,171 (63 for $723,993).

The comparison is even more startling in the Jan.-April 1960 figures (with the same period totals for 1959 in brackets): B.C., 146 loans for $1,706,588 (1,752 for $20,915,200); met. Vancouver, 73 loans for $815,956 (1,293 for $15,770,449), and met. Victoria 43 for $522,441 (232 for $2,704,548).

MAJOR DECLINE

This means the value of NHA loans has decreased by $19,208,612 in B.C. the first four months of this year over the same period in 1959. In Vancouver the falloff amounts to $14,954,493. In Victoria, $2,182,107 fewer NHA dollars were available in the first four months of this year over last.

Looking at the figures another way to see that if the total amount of NHA loans in April ($172,171) was split among approximately 40 Greater Victoria general contractors, the average amount of work from this source is approximately $4,300. It doesn't work out that way, of course. Some contractors did better. Unfortunately many did worse. And a few didn't do anything worth talking about.

If you split the total amount of NHA money available in April among Vancouver's 155 general contractors, the picture is even more devastating—the average NHA business was slightly over $1,000. Those are lean pickings. Particularly when you consider the capital investment in plant and equipment, fixed operating costs and payrolls.

A survey of the Greater Victoria NHA building figures for the January-April period shows total housing starts numbered 91. Last year same time there were 222.

In Victoria alone there were nine NHA houses started. Last year there were 48. Saanich's totals were cut by more than 50 per cent—from 138 last year at this time to 62.

A similar downturn in NHA loans and housing starts is apparent all across the country. It is impossible to estimate the loss in dollars to industries related to contracting. But few would deny the loss is indeed consequential. Taken collectively, the total amount of dollars lost is so substantial it makes one wonder if economists shouldn't alter their pitch of a buoyant general economy in this country for the rest of the year.

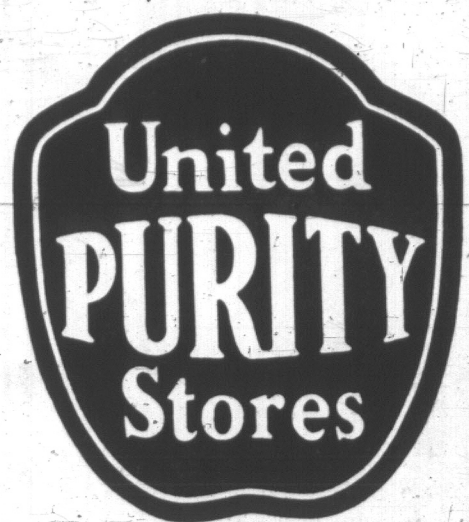

TOWN TALK — A rumor which had major oil companies abandoning their Victoria operations was hastily refuted Wednesday — by oil company spokesmen . . . True, at least one company, Shell Oil, has recalled district sales manager W. H. Ball and others have combined sales with marketing . . . But the moves have not been made, spokesman emphasized, because of depressed business conditions or a loss of faith in Victoria or Vancouver Island . . . Said one district manager: "The moves are part of a trend prevalent in the U.S. for two years, to reduce the line of command from the home base. In most cases that is Vancouver. Business here, if anything, is up slightly."

269,314 In Edmonton
EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton's population has increased by 8,581 persons in the last year it was shown Wednesday by a census report. The city now has a population of 269,314, with 315,114 persons in the metropolitan area.

NEW YORK (NEA)—The way things look now, the second Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson fight at the Polo Grounds, June 20, could have a more sorrowful ending than the mishmash that followed last year's financial fiasco.

Feature Sports, or the eight brave men promoting it, had better hurry up and get the show off the ground. It requires a ton of selling, and if high-pressure salesmanship does not succeed, this one could result in a muddle making Credit Mobilizer seem like a well-conducted Epworth League meeting.

Most experienced boxing men say the second edition between Johansson and Patterson will be fortunate to draw much more at the gate than the $407,000 net paid at the box office by those who watched the Swedish Swain dribble Flaming Floyd all over the Yankee Stadium canvas a year ago.

Joe Louis dropped into the boxing department of Madison Square Garden the other day and bet a boxing writer a $20 hat that the upcoming production would not gross $750,000 at the turnstiles. This means that such a seasoned hand as the old Brown Bomber doubts that it will do $250,000 more than it did the first time.

Broadway ticket brokers, highly sensitive barometers, report that as of this minute tickets are harder to get rid of than subscriptions to a $100-a-plate political dinner in a Bowers flophouse. They point out that the $100 top price is way out of kilter and that any demand for seats to the production will have to come late.

There is little basic interest in the rematch. Mighty few talk about it. Johansson's third-round knockout of Patterson was so decisive it left little doubt by close observers.

Patterson, long suspect by close observers because of the careful manner in which his deposed manager, Gus D'Amato, culled Peter Popovers from the bottom of the beak-busting barrel as opponents, refused to demonstrate his right to a second shot.

Although he insisted on a warmup against the inadequate Brian London in preparation for his first encounter with Johansson, the Peek-a-Boo Pattycaker has remained as pacific as a hedgehog since the Nonchalant Norseman belted him out. He ignored all overtures, including a standing Madison Square Garden offer of $50,000 to fight anyone, including the likes of Don Warner, Billy Hunter and Alex Miteff.

Johansson Busy Hamming It Up

Johansson, who's hardly been to bed since he won the title, hasn't helped the encore, either.

The big Swede could at least have made a few noises like a fighter instead of devoting all the time he could spare from counting his money to mugging for movie and television cameras and billing and cooing.

In view of what happened before, the public lacks confidence in the promotion.

The contract calls for $200,000 to be placed in escrow in Switzerland for Johansson four days before the bout. When the time comes for this additional outlay, the promoters, who have already gone to considerable expense, are liable to be reluctant to ante up, particularly if there is a comparative pittance in the till.

If they don't put up the guarantee, Ingo the Bingo is free to pull out. Then where will the poor ticket holders be—in the same fix as those who were refused refunds when the first bout was postponed?

There is, reportedly, a $700,000 guarantee for ancillary rights. If it is forthcoming—and I seem to remember something about a $600,000 guarantee from real estate tycoon William Zeckendorf for the first scrap which disappeared when things started to go wrong—the fighters will make plenty of money on a $100,000-net gate.

The way the thing is rigged, however, Feature Sports, Inc., comprised of eight well-intentioned, would-be promoters, runs a splendid chance of losing somewhere between $150,000 and $200,000, and that would make this one a bigger financial bust than the first.

Fred Stays Up Often Enough For Vics to Win in Overtime

Victoria Tied for Third After Nipping Vancouver

Vancouver 15, Victoria 17
By ERNIE FEDORUK

Nobody expects Gordie Johnston to play forever, least of all Gordie. And the veteran netminder's personal choice of who should take over in the nets became the choice also of 1,629 Victoria fans Wednesday night.

So meet Fred Wooster, the 22-year-old, product of Victoria's minor lacrosse setup who filled Gordie's accustomed spot for the second straight night.

Consider Wednesday's effort a better-than-adequate job because for the second successive time Victoria's ex-Shamrocks turned on Vancouver and moved up to share third place in the Intercity Lacrosse League.

And for the records, the decision was 17-15 after overtime.

It wasn't a decision that left coach Norm Baker jumping for joy. He was happy, sure enough, but he is still anxious to tie "some loose ends" together. That includes loose checking, responsible for the season's highest-scoring game, and conditioning.

Tie those loose ends together, says Baker, "then you can be sure of one thing. Once the boys get into shape, I'm going to have a hard time picking my team."

Gary Tallies Twice in Overtime

Wooster, who played with the Junior Shamrocks last year and took part in the Canadian final when picked up by New Westminster, made 21 stops in three regular quarters and the 10-minute overtime session.

Don Hamilton, who also played for the Junior Rocks before transferring allegiance to Vancouver this season, stopped 28 shots.

It was the loose checking, coupled with several alert breakaways, that led to the 32-goal spree. Even Wooster got into the scoring act, passing to Jackie Northup for a fourth-quarter goal.

Vancouver led 5-3 after the first quarter and 8-6 at the half. It was 10-9 for Baker's boys at the three-quarter mark and 13-13 at the end of regulation time.

Two overtime goals by Gary Moore and one each by Northup and Al Davies gave Victoria its victory. Moore, Northup and sophomore Jim McNeill each scored three times while Ron Jay added two tallies and singles went out to Davies, Al Gill, Ed Kowalyk, Paul Parnell and Tom Collett.

John Cervi was Vancouver's big gun, scoring five times while speedy Pete Black and Gordie Gimple added three goals apiece.

ON THE REBOUND: Vancouver scored five goals on the odd-man play and once while playing shorthanded... the Vics bounced three goals while shorthanded and three

END OF ERA for Curt Simmons, came Wednesday night when hard-luck southpaw was handed outright release by Philadelphia Phillies.

Simmons, who won 115 games in 13 National League seasons with Phillies, had operation on throwing arm last year and yielded 13 hits in four innings this season. Troubled by injuries during career, Simmons had best year in 1950, winning 17 games. He hopes to sign with another club.

Five-Day Rest Tonic for Eddie

By United Press International

That five-day layoff apparently was just what Eddie Mathews and his muscular Milwaukee teammates needed to tune up their batting eyes.

The Braves, fretting and fuming in enforced idleness since May 5, took out their anger on the St. Louis Cardinals with a 12-8 slugging show when they finally played a game Wednesday night. And Mathews, who was off to a slow start, looked like the 40-homer-a-year man he's been for four seasons.

Big Ed hit two homers, a single and a sacrifice fly, to drive in five runs and lead a 13-hit Braves attack that also included homers by Wes Covington and Del Crandall. The outburst lifted Mathews' average 30 points to .323 and his fourth and fifth homers of the season raised his career total to 304.

RANKS SEVENTH

Since starting the season Mathews has passed Rogers Hornsby and Chuck Klein on the all-time National League home run list and now ranks seventh. Warren Spahn was the beneficiary of the assault on six St. Louis pitchers, picking up his second win of the season and the 26th of his career although he was relieved in the seventh inning.

Victory enabled the Braves to remain firmly planted in third place behind the front-running San Francisco Giants, who beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, for their fifth straight win, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, who downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-3, in other NL action.

Detroit Tigers scored their second straight 1-0 victory over the Washington Senators on Al Kaline's 10th-inning homer and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Kansas City A's, 5-3, in 10 innings in the American League.

The smallest night crowd in Milwaukee history, 9,472, saw

Columbus Close To Soccer Title

VANCOUVER (CP)—Columbus won its fifth straight Pacific Coast Soccer League game Wednesday night here before 800 fans, defeating fourth-place Vancouver City 1-0.

The win extended Columbus' first-place lead to four points over Westminster Royals.

Both teams have two games to play, leaving the Royals with the task of winning two straight, while Columbus would have to lose twice for Westminster to tie for first place.

Spokane Club May Rejoin Amateur Loop

CALGARY (CP)—Club directors of the Western Hockey League met here today to make decisions that conceivably could change the entire structure of the league.

President Al Leader was busy Wednesday talking with representatives from several clubs, but the serious, unpredictable bargaining started in closed sessions this morning.

At stake is the possibility of a Los Angeles franchise in the league, but Leader has played down its chances in recent statements saying the city has failed to commit itself for use of the coliseum.

If Los Angeles is approved, travel costs would make Winnipeg a doubtful starter next year. Here again, Leader has had soothing words for Calgary and Edmonton, the other prairie teams in the seven-club loop. He says Winnipeg won't leave, because without it Calgary and Edmonton would have poor schedules.

One thing likely to occur is the official departure of Spokane Comets from the WHL and the entry of a Portland franchise. Spokane is said to be seriously considering a return to senior amateur hockey, which at one time flourished in the city. Fan interest has dropped since Spokane entered professional ranks.

Alouettes Trade McNichol to Cats

MONTREAL (UPI)—The Big Four Football Union Montreal Alouettes today traded veteran Canadian end Doug McNichol to Harry Lampman of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats as the start of a major player upheaval.

The trade was announced less than 24 hours after Montreal general manager coach Perry Moss announced that McNichol was on the way out "in the interest of team morale" and because Moss felt he was not worth his salary.

McNichol, who is 30, joined the Alouettes in 1954 after playing for the University of Western Ontario.

Lampman, also 30, will report to the Montreal club's training camp July 2. He is a graduate of Queen's University and has played for the Tiger-Cats since 1956.

Moss said no money was involved in the deal. "We feel that we have improved the ball club with this trade," he said. "Lampman can add a lot to our line-up for 1960."

VHS Records Tumble In Pole-Vault Pits

They were vaulting high, wide and handsome Wednesday in the annual Victoria High School interhouse track and field meet.

New pole vault records were established for both juniors and seniors as Al Haylett vaulted nine feet four and three-quarters inches to top the juniors and Albert Wolters established himself as a real interhigh threat with a jump of 10 feet one inch.

Finals in all track events will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. Oak Bay High School will hold its interhouse track finals the same day.

Chances of the young Victorian scoring a clean sweep this weekend, however, won't be as bright if Cooper and Clarke are ready to return to the stock car battles at the Langford oval.

Cooper, Victoria's "Flying Plumber," missed the opener because of a business trip. The several-time winner of the Island point championship is expected to be in the pits Saturday when time trials get under way at 7:30.

Clarke, who became the first go-around driver to top the point standings when he led the field last year, remains a doubtful starter. His debut depends on the acquisition of spare parts from California.

The No. 1 driver was ready for last week's opener, but blew three pistons in his GMC powered car during a test run.

Second Pro Club 'Tough Struggle'

TORONTO (CP)—A. J. Bennett of Toronto said Wednesday night he expects a favorable decision on a franchise for an American Football League team in Toronto within a week and franchise approval from the governors of the new league within a month.

The real estate man said he and associates interested in the franchise would like to discuss prospects for use of Varsity Stadium at the University of Toronto but have not yet talked to university officials. The stadium has a seating capacity of 27,392.

Commissioner Syd Halter of the Canadian Football League said he has heard nothing of the proposed plans of the AFL to extend into Toronto and Montreal "and I have no reason to believe it."

There are too many cities in the United States interested for them to approve a Canadian team.

Managing director Lew Hayman of the Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union commented: "I don't think any city is large enough for two pro teams. It's been a struggle for years in Chicago and they have given up."

The spare parts were due today. The return of Cooper and Clarke, plus renewed challenges of other top threats like Al Smith, Bill Foster, Hank Neilson, Ray Pottinger and Red Burke could prove to be a testing roadblock for Varley.

Saturday's program will include, in addition to the time trials, a trophy dash, four heats and a 25-lap main event.

Approval Given To New Hospital

(From Duncan Bureau)

Provincial government has indicated verbally it will approve construction of a new 165-bed King's Daughters' Hospital on Gibbons Road, at the western boundary of Duncan.

The hospital will serve the four hospital improvement districts of Duncan, North Cowichan, Lake Cowichan and Koksilah Valley.

Announcement of the government approval was made at a meeting of the hospital construction committee, which now is considering provisions for nursing, psychiatric care, and operating space in addition to the following departments: X-ray, heating plant and boilers, housekeeping, accounting, physiotherapy, medical records, stores, maintenance, laundry, laboratory, pharmacy, kitchen, cafeteria, administration and purchasing.

There is no pharmacy or cafeteria in the old hospital, and space for the other departments is limited.

On the committee are H. B. Matthews, Don Hammond, G. W. Highmoor, Dr. Raymond Duncan, Dr. J. Pawlowski, Dr. C. J. G. MacKenzie, public health officer; Miss A. M. Jennings, KDH director of nursing.

SAYS CHISHOLM

Mankind Must Change As War Terrors Grow

SOOKE—Hydrogen bombs and biological warfare call for a complete evaluation of mankind's attitude if the world is to live in peace, Dr. Brock Chisholm said here at the regular meeting of Sooke-Milnes Landing PTA.

In the past, he said, mankind accepted customs of nations, and every culture had its own point of view, which was impressed on children.

For generations families, tribes, and nations indulged in "relatively inefficient" warfare on a "retail" scale, but now, almost overnight, killing can be put on a "wholesale" basis.

"We cannot use old behavior patterns," Dr. Chisholm said. "Major warfare is racial suicide, and we now must develop universal attitudes. One is apt to think of the welfare, prosperity and prestige of the group into which he was born. Our concept is that we are the good ones. There is, however, something of value in all cultures."

CONSCIENCE NOT ENOUGH

Dr. Chisholm added that even conscience is not an infallible guide, as it depends on tradition and environment.

He referred to the United Nations as a mature step towards the survival of the human race.

"We must exercise our imaginations in an endeavor to understand other racial problems," he said. "Imagination must be free to find out what is valuable and not valuable. We must encourage our children to think, and even to question us, because it is our responsibility to help our children to reach maturity in all nations everywhere."

Final stage of restoration of the old stone church on the Cowichan Indian Reserve, begun in 1958 by Cowichan Indians as a centennial project, has been completed with a recent work bee which saw the laying of a cement floor.

The hilltop church overlooking Cowichan Bay has a new roof, and the masonry has been restored. Work was begun in 1958 with money provided by the provincial government's centennial grant.

The Duncan Kiwanis Club's Kiwanis Village Society Wednesday called for tenders for the construction of two buildings on the Trunk Road site which will provide four dwelling units for Duncan senior citizens.

Hammond and Farmer, Duncan architects, have prepared the plans and will receive tenders until 3 p.m., May 25.

LAKE COWICHAN—Entries and spectators from Youbou, Honeymoon Bay, Mesachie Lake, and Duncan helped to make a success of the 10th annual spring flower show sponsored by Stanley Gordon Chapter, IOOE.

Mrs. Verna Cunnell, Lake Cowichan, won the Butchart Gardens trophy for high points in the bloom section, and Mrs. Cedric Myers, Honeymoon Bay, won the H. A. Dreany trophy awarded each year for the most artistic flower arrangement.

Miss Ottilie Boyd, Lake Cowichan, won the IOOE bowl for highest points in the decorative section.

Linda Mair won the Kiwanis trophy for highest aggregate points in the children's section, and Barbara Weismiller's collection of pressed flowers won for her a trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross of the Butchart Gardens for the most outstanding entry in the children's section.

Post contest held in connection with the show was won by Linda Edberg, 12, of Lake Cowichan Elementary School.

The show was opened by Mrs. H. A. Dreany, Cobble Hill. Judges were Mrs. W. J. Cotsford, Mrs. E. J. Clark, Mrs. Cedric Myers, Ed Roberts, Bruce Devitt, M. Marrs, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wiggan and Mrs. B. Lyons.

General convener was Mrs. Cecil McMurtrie, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Mrs. R. Rosendale, and Mrs. Ralph Liebel.

NANAIMO (CP)—Federal government representatives from Ottawa are expected here today in connection with a bill introduced in the House of Commons for the formation of a Nanaimo Harbor Commission. Nothing has been heard of the bill since it was sent to a committee of examination early in the session.

A delegation of 10 Russian forestry experts will arrive here May 28 for a six-day tour of B.C. pulp and paper mills. The Russian group will leave May 29 for Nanaimo and will visit Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited's Elk Falls pulp mill near Campbell River May 30.

a sure sign of spring in Duncan is occupancy of benches in Cenotaph Park, shimmering spot of green in heart of city-business section beside railroad tracks, some sit in park to visit, some to wait impatiently for distant friends not yet in sight, and some to soothe aching feet. Man second from left obviously is vowing that next time he goes shopping he will wear carpet slippers. Care of park is city responsibility. (D'Arcy Rickard photo).

Sewage Disposal Plan Urged

(From Duncan Bureau)

Duncan city council, Indian Affairs branch representatives, and three Cowichan Indian Reserve property owners are scheduled to meet this week to discuss plans for a safe sewage disposal system for Duncan.

The city hopes to lease a 20-acre site near the intersection of Tzouhalem and Maple Bay Roads, about two miles east of the city, for use as a sewage lagoon.

City engineer R. E. Potter has reported that such a system would be adequate to serve the city and the municipality.

F. A. Clark, Indian agent, said the three individual property owners "would probably be in favor of the land-lease if a suitable agreement on rental terms can be reached."

A preliminary plan survey has been completed to determine the individual property boundaries. A final survey will be made if an agreement is reached.

NOT SATISFACTORY

Dr. C. J. G. MacKenzie, director of the Central Vancouver Island Health Unit, stated in his annual report for 1959 that "only part of the city of Duncan is on sewers, and the sewage disposal system is not functioning in a satisfactory manner. It is hoped that council's efforts will be successful and a safe sewage disposal system can be constructed."

Dr. MacKenzie reported there was some indication that the Cowichan River below the outfall of the Duncan sewer system was contaminated. Further tests are being made by the health department, and signs will be posted if swimming places in the river are found to be unsafe.

The proposed lagoon will replace the present unit on the eastern city limits where the outfall empties into the Cowichan River on Cowichan Reserve territory.

Duncan city council and members of Cowichan Indian Band council inspected a seven-acre sewage lagoon at Port Alberni about one year ago and were impressed with the "park-like" beauty of the project.

COUGAR BOUNTY RETURN SOUGHT

LAKE COWICHAN—Cowichan Lake residents are becoming concerned about the number of cougars seen close to the village and to some of the logging camps in the area.

Last Sunday a large female was shot by W. Dean near Camp 6, at the head of Cowichan Lake. This animal had been seen several times with her two kittens before being tracked down by Mr. Dean. Traps are now being set for the kittens.

Tuesday afternoon a large cougar was seen by Mrs. Paul Pearson of Sahilam Avenue in the village, very close to her house. Two small children were playing nearby and had pointed to the animal. Mrs. Pearson called her neighbor to get his gun, but the animal quickly disappeared into the bush.

Residents feel that if the bounty was offered again, local hunters would be more inclined to go after the big cats.

ROCKEFELLER $350 Million Fortune Given Away

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., who poured millions of dollars into a world-wide program of philanthropy, died in a Tucson hospital Wednesday at the age of 86.

A spokesman for Rockefeller's physician attributed death to pneumonia and heart strain. Rockefeller, a frequent winter visitor to Tucson, had been ill for several months.

FAMILY CALLED

Admitted to the hospital last December, Rockefeller remained there until being discharged two weeks ago. He was re-admitted Monday when his condition became serious, and members of the family were called to his bedside.

His son, Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York, arrived by plane only a few hours before the death.

No estimate of Rockefeller's personal fortune was available but his great wealth was evident in known gifts totaling more than $350,000,000.

Rockefeller once said that only as a student at Brown University "did I enjoy a completely independent personality... there has been nothing in my life since like that comradeship."

CLEAN SHEET

No Breach Of Ethics By Realtors

Victoria Real Estate Board members conducted business by the book in the last fiscal year.

Retiring president William Bailey told the annual meeting in the Empress Hotel Wednesday that "no single member was brought before the board last year for any infraction of the code of ethics."

"That is quite a feat in a board this size," he said.

Mr. Bailey cited as the board's major projects in his term:

Completion of a three-year effort to draw up a new constitution, code of ethics and scale of commissions;

Greater participation in a provincial and national scale with realtor associations and councils;

Growth of the organization to 56 active members and 300 associate members, an office staff of six and resources of $60,000.

In recognition of his services, Mr. Bailey was presented with a gift by incoming president P. D. P. Holmes.

FERRIES ALREADY POPULAR

The provincial government's new ferry service is proving immensely popular — among job-hunters, at least.

Thousands have applied for 162 jobs on the two new ferries to go into service for the provincial government early in June.

"We didn't anticipate so many," said general manager Monty Aldous.

Applications for storekeepers, machinists, parking lot attendants, first and second officers, stewards, cooks, pantrymen and dishwashers closed Tuesday.

Applications for other jobs close on May 16 — deckhands, and May 24 — night watchmen and coffee shop waiters.

If a new broom sweeps clean, Vancouver Island's tourist promotion efforts are going to take on a new look.

Greater Victoria realtors largest industry in Canada and were told Wednesday the Victoria & Island Publicity Bureau, with the co-ordination of all Island tourist bodies, is working on a new theme.

All future promotion, new Bureau commissioner Bill Hawkins told realtors, will call Vancouver Island "Canada's Treasure Island because of the treasure of attractions we have to offer."

Mr. Hawkins called on realtors to support "as strongly as you can" the bureau's efforts to popularize "Treasure Island" here and abroad.

Efforts to copyright the name are well underway, he said.

Tourism, he said, is the third largest industry in Canada and the U.S.

"It's the second largest industry on Vancouver Island. And it's only in its infancy."

A survey of visitors to Victoria showed, he said, the majority came because they had been here before and liked what they saw—"a reflection on the kindness, courtesy and thoughtfulness of Victorians." Others came because Victoria was recommended to them as an ideal holiday resort. The balance were influenced by advertisements.

'Fresh Start Needed at Summit'

CHICAGO (AP)—Six Nobel prize winners stood on the same stage Wednesday night and spoke of the causes of the conference on world tensions.

The occasion was a session of the conference on world tensions.

Lester B. Pearson, leader of Canada's Liberal party, who won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957, asserted that passions and prejudices should be put aside "and we must start afresh at the summit next week."

Sir Norman Angell of Britain, 1933 winner, said "the situation demands a world government possessing large police powers of inspection and control." He added:

"But how can a world authority, in which Russia and China would necessarily play a large part, be prevented from destroying those individual rights we in the West value so highly?"

BOMB MOST DANGEROUS

Lord John Boyd-Orr of Scotland, who won the prize in 1949, said the most dangerous tension has been raised by the hydrogen bomb.

"Another tension which may in the not very distant future be a threat to our Western civilization, is caused by the revolt of the colored races against the domination of the white race," he said.

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche of the United States, 1950 winner, said that all of the major tensions of the world are interrelated.

"There is, for instance, our American problem of race relations, which is actually a national aspect of the world-wide problem of race relations," he said.

Also on the rostrum were Philip Noel-Baker of England who won the Nobel award in 1959, and the Rev. Dominique Pire, Belgian priest who took the prize in 1958 for his work in resettling refugees.

Youths Flee Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eight young Cubans who claim they fled Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's regime were rescued by a United States Coast Guard vessel Tuesday after their 20-foot boat ran out of gas in the Gulfstream, 35 miles south of Miami. They identified themselves as members of an anti-Communist youth movement.

MASTER JEWEL THIEF GIVES HIMSELF UP

AIX EN PROVENCE, France (Reuters)—French underworld figure Paul Leca has surrendered to police here after being sought for 11 years for his part in the sensational holdup of the late Aga Khan's car in 1949, it was disclosed Wednesday.

Leca, said to be the "master mind" in the holdup, was sentenced in absentia in 1952 to hard labor for life. He did not explain why he gave up.

Gangsters stopped the Aga Khan's car at pistol point and made off with $400,000 worth of jewels belonging to his wife. Most of the jewelry was later recovered.

RARE OLD-TIME PICTURE shows an Indian gathering at the Gorge for traditional inter-tribal canoe races on Victoria Day. Year photograph was taken is not known, but scene indicates that it dates back to more than 48 years. The Gorge was then a large natural, wooded playground. There were few homes in the vicinity. Indian bands mainly raced in whaling canoes with up-swept bows. Owner of the picture is Chief John Albany of the Songhees Reserve, who obtained it from a Vancouver friend.

CANOE RACES STEEPED IN TRADITION

A Brave's Word is His Bond

By HUMPHRY DAVY

When the Songhees and affiliated bands whoop it up at their Indian festival at Maple Bank Park May 22 and 23, they will be keeping an old promise to Queen Victoria that they would observe her birthday every year.

Chief John Albany of the Songhees Reserve said today the origin of the Indian celebrations on Victoria Day dates back to the days of Sir James Douglas, first governor of British Columbia more than 80 years ago.

That was before the day was set aside by an Act of Parliament as a national holiday, he said.

"Songhees Indians, out of admiration for the Queen, decided in 1864 to honor her birthday every year," he said. "Since then it has become a tradition as deeply engrained as St. Patrick's Day is for Irishmen."

Great Spectacle

At the turn of the century and after the good Queen's death, he said, the majority of celebrations took the form of canoe races in the Gorge. They were still held there up to a few years ago.

Since then the races have been held in Esquimalt Harbor in conjunction with the Vancouver Island Indian Festival—an event operated and organized by native bands.

Chief Albany said according to the old-timers of his band, the Gorge races of bygone days were a spectacle which will never be repeated.

Hundreds of coastal Indians with their wives and children converged on Victoria for the May 24th races.

60-Foot Canoes

Some bands traveled to the Gorge in 60-foot canoes carrying as many as 40 passengers and provisions. These were mainly used by the natives for transportation. They were extremely seaworthy and sometimes traveled as far south as California.

It was the whaling canoe, a sleek dugout with an up-swept bow that was mainly used in the racing events. It was usually about 20 feet long and carried eight paddlers.

Fifty years ago, Indians equipped with spears hunted the big sea mammals in this canoe.

The canoe used in today's festival races, Chief Albany said, did not exist before 1914. It was designed later for racing only.

Indians, he said, hold Queen Victoria in high esteem because to them her reign represents a golden age when the traditions and customs of the natives were respected.

Queen Came First

A year ago, he said, a suggestion was made to hold the festival in September when the weather is more certain and there are more tourists in the city.

"But the proposal was turned flatly down by young and old," he stated. "They insisted that we keep our word to honor the Queen's birthday."

"So I guess whether or not the whites continue to do so in years to come, we will continue to maintain the old tradition," he said.

The chief said 15 bands so far have entered canoes in this month's festival races.

"Indians take the races seriously," he said. "It is a high honor to win a major trophy."

Canada Power Men Making Tour of USSR

LONDON (CP)—Eleven senior Canadian power industry executives arrived here Tuesday en route to Russia where they will make a 21-day study of energy production achievements.

The group, headed by James S. Duncan of Toronto, chairman of Ontario Hydro, leaves London for Moscow Saturday on board a Soviet TU-104 jet airliner.

They will spend two days in the Russian capital before leaving for the sites of hydro, thermal and nuclear power plants. Their tour will take them as much as 3,000 miles east of Moscow and will include visits to the huge Kuibyshev and Breznev dams.

In addition to Duncan, the party comprises:

J. L. Gray of Ottawa, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited; D. M. Stephens of Winnipeg, chairman and general manager of the Manitoba Hydro Electric Board; A. E. Grauer of Vancouver, president of the British Columbia Electric Company Limited; A. W. Howard of Calgary, managing director of Calgary Power Limited; A. W. Southam of Montreal, managing director of the British Newfoundland Corporation; R. E. Groat of Montreal, vice-president of Shawinigan Engineering Company Limited; F. L. Lawton of Montreal, vice-president and chief engineer of the power division of the Aluminum Laboratories Limited; Henry Ellis of Vancouver, senior engineer of B.C. Electric and H. P. Cadario and H. A. Smith, both of Toronto and Ontario Hydro.

LOCAL BRIEFS

A hearse belonging to a Quadra Street funeral home was damaged when faulty wiring set fire to the engine compartment at 2.45 p.m. Tuesday.

When city firemen arrived at Chaplin's 980 Quadra, they found an adjoining garage where the hearse was kept filled with smoke as if the building itself were ablaze.

Total damage was estimated at $400.

Frank Daly, 3893 Douglas, lent a helping hand to a friend whose car was ditched in front of his house, but ended up paying a $65 penalty.

Daly pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Tuesday to driving while his licence was under suspension and to driving a car without licence plates, and was fined a reduced $50 and $15 respectively.

Magistrate William Ostler noted the unusual circumstances and was satisfied the driving incident was isolated.

Winners have been announced for the Victoria Duplicate Bridge Club's Tuesday night tournament at Holyrood House.

The committee, with $14,500 to consider, will advise Mrs. Kirby regarding the purchase of a house for herself and four children.

Housing Starts Show Sharp Drop

OTTAWA (CP) — Housing starts in the first quarter of this year were 5,247 units, compared with 16,365 in the corresponding period of last year. The number of dwellings under construction at the end of March also was down — to 63,797 from 78,915 a year previously.

CITY DOCTOR PROPOSES CORONARY UNITS IN HOSPITALS

Frozen-Sleep to Cut Heart Deaths

CHICAGO (AP) — A Canadian surgeon said today that the lives of numerous heart attack victims could be saved if hospitals set up specially staffed and equipped coronary units.

Dr. W. Carleton Whiteside of Victoria said such units would be for patients who survive the initial heart attack but die a few hours later because their extensively damaged hearts are not able to do the job required.

The suggested units would consist of two emergency rooms, staffed by a heart specialist nurse, intern and anaesthetist. The patients would receive frozen-sleep treatment to relieve the work load on their damaged hearts.

Writing in the current issue of the International College of Surgeons, Dr. Whiteside said the heart team should be prepared to go into action without the attending physician, if he is not available.

Dr. Whiteside's plan is designed for the patient with coronary insufficiency. In such cases the blood supply to the heart muscle is shut off suddenly by a blood clot or other blockage of a heart artery. Portions of the heart muscle are suddenly blood starved and die.

The surgeon gave this account: Coronary insufficiency accounts for one-third of all deaths among middle-aged men in North America and the incidence is increasing rapidly.

When the blood supply to part of the heart muscle is cut off, "a grim battle for survival" is waged between the blocked arteries and the rest of the heart which is trying to take over the entire work load.

Such patients, under the plan, would be rushed to a coronary unit and given morphine and oxygen to relieve pain and shock.

Then the patient would be covered with ice blankets and put into a kind of frozen sleep. In this modified form of suspended animation, the patient's temperature would drop and his living rate or metabolism would be lowered to a level which his weakened heart could maintain.

In extreme emergencies when the heart stops or goes into a shuddering and irregular action, the patient's chest would be opened and the heart massaged by hand. Any qualified member of the team would be authorized to act quickly.

Dr. Whiteside contended that present, more conservative methods of heart treatment are not doing the job.

WITNESS REPRIMANDED FOR KISSING KNUCKLE

A kiss on the knuckle drew a figurative slap on the wrist for a Duncan man appearing as a witness in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday.

"Just a moment," the magistrate protested.

"Is that the way you swear to give evidence in this court? What is the meaning of that?"

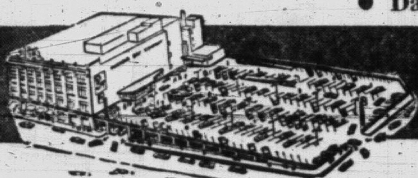

"I've heard it is a sanitary precaution acceptable in some courts," the witness replied.

Mr. Thomas made him do it again, this time without knuckles.

'So Bad Even Communists Want to Escape'

By TONY DICKASON

Mrs. Maimu Raig, 37, of 3001 Austin, is in the odd position of having to teach her mother English and her son, Thomas, 9, Estonian.

Her mother, Mrs. Emilia Kallas, 62, arrived here the other day from the Russian-dominated country while son Tommy was born in Canada. Mrs. Raig fled her homeland in 1944, by motorboat to Finland and then Sweden. She has been in Canada 10 years.

"It was grim. The Germans were firing at us from a boat at sea, and the Russians were firing at us from land."

This was when the Russians came to Estonia in 1944. About 100,000 Estonians "escaped," most to Sweden.

"It was dangerous to get out, but more dangerous to stay in."

"You understand," Mrs. Raig said today, "that if I talk too much it makes it difficult for other people to get out."

the family owned and operated until arrival of the Russians. They made it a collective farm. She was left with a garden plot.

How raise the money for the fare here?

"I did weaving—like rugs, and saved the money I made from selling them. It had to be done secretly. Sale of such things under Russia are taxed so high it is useless to try—pointless."

It took the strong-willed woman 16 years to raise the cash.

But 2½ years ago she applied for an exit visa for Canada. Nothing happened. Papers were "lost."

Mrs. Raig tried from this end, and bit-by-bit the efficient Canadian embassy got action. Last August "mother" tried again. She made it.

"There are a few older people getting out, very few."

SQUEEZED

There are now, she said, more Russians in Estonia than there are Estonians.

And they have "stripped" the Estonian forests, which split the economy with farming in earlier days.

Mr. Harold Raig is a forester-in-training with the provincial government. In Sweden he was supervisor of a forestry camp.

Mrs. Raig is a bachelor of arts, and learned her English in high school at home.

"Mother hasn't yet," she said through Maimu today, "is that I do not know English."

But like most women, said Mrs. Raig, "she can shop in any language."

FAMILY CIRCLE IS COMPLETE AT LAST, after 16 years. From Estonia came "grandmother" to meet with daughter Maimu, and granddaughter Catherine, aged three. (Times Photo).

Acting Mayor Against Theatre Auditorium

$1 Million Work Might Be Needed

The Royal Theatre hasn't the facilities to be used as an auditorium, Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell said today.

He was commenting on the Famous Players proposal to sell the 48-year-old edifice to the city. Price offer was not disclosed.

"From a theatrical point of view the Royal may be all right, but not as an auditorium," Mr. Dowell said.

"I can't see the city buying it. We need something more modern, befitting the capital city of the province."

He hazarded a guess it could cost as much as $1,000,000 to put the theatre into shape if it were converted into a proper auditorium.

FULL INQUIRY

Meanwhile, the auditorium committee is undertaking a full investigation of the sale proposal.

Groups using the theatre state that lighting would have to be replaced and ventilation improved.

Fire Chief James Bayliss said the Royal, although old, was no more a fire hazard than "dozens" of other buildings in and around Victoria.

But he added if a similar structure was built today, "it is likely concrete blocks would be used for walls, rather than the wooden interior."

VLA Subdivision Being Developed In Esquimalt

A new VLA subdivision is in the process of being developed on Rockheights Avenue as the result of an agreement between Esquimalt and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The subdivision to consist of 18 lots will be completely serviced with sewers, lights, curbs, drains and gutters at a total cost of $40,000.

Lots are expected to go on sale early in July.

The property was sold by Esquimalt to VLA. Under the agreement the municipality is responsible for installing the services.

The subdivision, situated near Lampson School, overlooks the Gorge and Portage Inlet.

Sewers will be installed on the seven-acre property within the next few weeks.

HUDSON WONG ... wins $35 prize

Judges Laud High Quality Of Posters

A 13-year-old Central Junior High School pupil has been declared winner of the Tourist Appreciation Week junior high school poster contest.

Telling his story "simply yet effectively" won the $35 first prize for Hudson Wong, grade eight, of 25 Marlborough.

Second prize was won by Doris Miller, 14, 1439 Myrtle, grade eight pupil at Lansdowne Junior High.

Third prize went to Larry Whitman, 15, 2665 Victor, a grade nine pupil at Lansdowne.

Judges Sid Barron, Times cartoonist, and Tom Stock, commercial artist, said the 25 posters entered were of a high quality.

PROMISE DISPLAYED

"The youngsters showed considerable promise," said Mr. Barron. "It was obvious that they put in a great deal of work."

Mr. Barron said it is regrettable that Victoria doesn't offer training facilities for embryo commercial artists. Vancouver's Art School offers limited training but budding artists must go to Los Angeles or eastern Canada for intensified, practical training, he said.

Honorable mention in the contest was won by Gordon Callow, 13, 4003 Bow Road, grade seven at Lansdowne; Jan Horne, 12, 523 Harbinger, grade seven at Central Junior High; John Koruta, 16, 3228 Wascana, grade nine at Colquitz Junior High, and Vicki Wright, 13, 1230 Reynolds, grade nine at Lansdowne.

BICYCLING EDITOR of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Barry Farrell, appears happier with the interview than Times Bicycling reporter Michael Rose. Farrell went through Victoria today on a tour through Port Angeles, Victoria, Sidney and Anacortes. (Times Photo.)

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

What is British diplomacy?

I discovered the answer at a cocktail party given the other evening by Sir Saville Garner, U.K. High Commissioner to Canada, and Lady Garner.

Both were the soul of friendliness and hospitality—so much so that towards closing time a couple of Old Britons were minded to recall the songs of their youth. The host and hostess didn't appear to notice; but, ere the sweet voices had gone more than three bars, a smiling young man (a member of Sir Saville's staff) crossed over to them, held out a hospitable hand and said: "So nice of you to come, gentlemen. Can I get you a taxi?"

In response to my request for readers' funniest experiences, Mrs. M.R.H. Saanich, confides: "I left my two children with my husband while I went shopping. When I returned I found my husband asleep in the playpen and the two children enjoying themselves ransacking the sideboard drawers..."

R. J. Hillier, a collector of odd stories, tells how the sales manager of a dog food factory called a conference of his salesmen and said:

"Everybody knows our dog food is the best in North America. Why aren't they buying more of it?" To which a young salesman at the back of the room replied:

"Mebbe the dogs don't like it!"

Mrs. Betty McKay of 17 Dock Street wonders if any other Times readers have been approached downtown by a lady with a shopping basket who says: "I've just missed my bus and my uncle, a very old man, is home alone and takes dizzy spells. Could you please run me home?"

Mrs. McKay was happy to do so but, in consequence, arrived late for an appointment with her doctor. When she explained why, several patients in the surgery laughed and said the same thing had happened to them.

Young Burglar Gets Probation, Liquor Warning

Eighteen-year-old Eric Pedersen, 6332 Central Saanich, was put on a year's probation and $500 good behavior bond in city police court today for his part in the burglary of Hudson's Bay Co. store the night of May 1.

Pedersen and a juvenile took $978.63 worth of goods from the store when they broke in by way of the only pane of glass in the store unprotected by burglar alarm.

Magistrate William Ostler suspended sentence on the charge (to which Pedersen pleaded guilty), although he said he did so hesitantly.

Mr. Ostler noted the youth had been "skirting close to the line" in his behavior, even though he had no previous criminal record.

A probation report showed a poor driving record, that he drank too much and kept undesirable company. On the positive side, he found that Pedersen was a hard worker.

"I have some hesitation about suspending because I feel you need a lesson," the magistrate said, but decided to follow the probation officer's suggestion.

Pedersen must abstain completely from alcohol during his probation. "You are too young to drink and you cannot handle it," the court observed.

LUCKY TO COME

Interpreting for her mother, she explained that even the Russians in Moscow, from whence Mrs. Kallas fled to London-Montreal-Vancouver, "said I was lucky to be able to come to Canada."

"Even the Communists want to escape, things are so bad." In the year Mrs. Raig got away, "in one week they took 60,000 Estonians to Siberia. We had no freedom. You could trust nobody."

Mrs. Kallas lived on a farm

Crisis Looms In Shortage Of Dentists

British Columbia is fast approaching "a serious crisis" in the growing shortage of dentists throughout the province, Dr. C. B. Jameson of Victoria, president of the B.C. Dental Association, said today.

"In some areas B.C. dentists are booked up more than a year in advance," Dr. Jameson told some 400 dentists and their wives attending a three-day dental convention at the Empress Hotel.

"This means that many patients are having to travel hundreds of miles to get urgently-needed treatment."

Dr. Jameson appealed to the provincial government and the University of British Columbia to recognize the "urgency" of the situation.

PROSPECTS FADING

"It could be alleviated considerably by the establishment of a faculty of dentistry at UBC. But at present the prospects of such a faculty are more remote than they were five years ago."

"If this faculty were established tomorrow, it would still be some six years before the first graduates were in practice."

"Meantime, the increase in population in B.C. is far outstripping the proportion of new dentists setting up in practice."

CITY JOBS WANTED

Interviewed later, Dr. Jameson said there is a modern tendency for young dentists to avoid practising in rural areas.

"As in so many other callings today, they want the amenities of city life, yet there is so much more scope and opportunity in the country."

One example of the dental shortage is that Dr. J. W. McEwen, a delegate to the convention, is one of only two dentists in the vast Burns Lake area.

At present some 47 B.C. students are training as dentists at Canadian universities, while 13 are at U.S. college faculties. Nearest faculties to B.C. are at the University of Washington, Seattle, and the University of Alberta, Edmonton.

New methods of making patients more comfortable in the chair are being discussed at table clinics accompanying the convention.

Dr. W. D. McDougall of Victoria will speak on analgesia (pain-killing) by pre-recorded sound.

RECENTLY ELECTED TO fellowship in College of Fellows of Royal Architectural Institute of Canada was Clive D. Campbell, former deputy minister and chief architect in provincial public works department now in private practice. He is immediate past president of Architectural Institute of B.C. and provincial Progressive Conservative candidate for Victoria.

FIBERGLAS NOSE LIKELY FOR STATUE

The Queen's statue likely will wind up with a new fiberglass nose.

Sculptress Peggy Walton Packard is waiting for warm, dry weather so the material will "set."

Otherwise, if the original concrete was used, the sculptured bust—now in Beacon Hill Park—would have to have the nose in a sling for a considerable length of time.

"This just might cause a little flurry," Mrs. Packard said.

Vandals broke the nose after the statue was placed in the park. It made national headlines earlier when the bust was "stolen" from city hall by students, then returned (undamaged) when the joke started to wear thin.

The fiberglass nose will have to be "matched up" with the gray concrete used in the rest of the bust.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: John Edmondson, 222 Vancouver, $15 for driving unaccompanied by an adult licence holder while a learner.

Robert T. Alexander, HMCS Naden, $45 and licence suspension for careless driving.

Robert Templeman, 1270 Dallas, $20, for driving without a licence and $15 for speeding over 20.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions Club: Noon, Empress Hotel, R. F. Allen of Canada Permanent Trust will speak on "You and Your Will."

Jolly Good Show for Tourism When Yanks Take to Cycling

By MICHAEL ROSE

It's a jolly good thing when the Yanks forget about their large cars and come up to see us on bicycles.

Of course this doesn't mean that one has to get one oneself, does it?

I did my bit for Tourist Appreciation Week today by riding a bike to interview Seattle Post-Intelligencer Bicycling Editor Barry Farrell who arrived this morning by ferry from Port Angeles.

I doubt whether I shall ever do it again, good neighbor policy or not.

Editor Farrell is making a tour of the Northwest through the Olympic Peninsula, Victoria, Sidney, and then by ferry to Anacortes and home where he will write about the joys of scenery from a cycle. I only hope he does better with a notebook on a bicycle than your correspondent.

FRIENDLY CRITIC

"I hope," he said, pumping his well-muscled legs, "that I won't damage international relations too badly when I say that some of your Canadian cyclists' manners leave a lot to be desired."

"For one thing," he said, drawing steadily away up the road, "they ride abreast on the highway and for another thing they ride too slowly."

At this point I made a resolve never to ride a bike in the States and pleaded for a coffee break.

While I attempted to recuperate, Barry ordered his breakfast which included crumpets.

"If you go to Victoria without eating crumpets," he ruminated, "I find that you have nothing to talk about when you get back home."

"This is something of a cultural trip," he continued, kindly loosening my tie; "anything we can do to cement relations between our two countries through this great sport is little enough."

CARS ARE PROBLEM

"Motorists are the biggest problem down south and perhaps I could offer a few words of advice to your tourists."

"Do not approach a cyclist from behind and blow your horn in a cheerful fashion, it can cause all kinds of nasty accidents. A man on a bike can probably hear you coming half a mile back."

How popular is the sport in Washington?

"Not very big down there. I'm afraid," he replied. "Cars have got a big head start on us; but I'm working on it."

NEW LOOK

Scenery from a cycle, he said, takes on a new dimension

from the usual view rushing past a car at 50 miles an hour.

Declining an invitation to accompany him further I watched him disappear on his odyssey and returned to my comfortable, well-muscled, four-wheeled car.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

An open house for parents and friends of prospective pupils will be held by the Lansdowne Co-operative Play Group Monday through Friday next week from 11 a.m. to noon daily in Stevenson Memorial Baptist Church at 1792 Townley Road.

Two young men arrested for loitering and obstructing the sidewalk on Yates last Friday each were sentenced to a day in jail when they appeared in city police court Wednesday.

The men were Dennis K. McCoy and David K. Yardley, who had pleaded not guilty to the charge and later altered this to guilty.

Police said the two stood in the middle of the sidewalk, forcing pedestrians to walk around them.

Rev. William Hills of Victoria, Rev. D. B. Houghton of Cowichan, and Rev. Canon G. H. Greenhalgh of Comox today were elected to the executive committee of the Anglican Diocesan Synod of British Columbia.

Elected to the board of governors, Anglican Theological College, were Rev. Canon T. Bailey, Rev. Dr. W. A. Ferguson and Dean Brian Whitlow of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria.

Final PTA meeting of the season for McKenzie Avenue School will be held at the school Monday at 8 p.m.

Speaker will be K. Shore from the Seven Oaks Home for Boys.

Provincial archivist Willard Ireland will address a meeting of the Colquitz PTA Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school.

Dinner meeting of the Greater Victoria and District Safety Council next Wednesday at Holyrood House will start at 6:30 p.m.

A meeting of the Dickens Fellowship will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at 565 Marfield Road.

Final meeting of the year for members of the Royal Oak Junior-Senior High School PTA will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the school.

Mount Newton High School student John Harding, 16, of 7810 West Saanich, was admitted to Jubilee Hospital with cut tendons of his left thumb after an accident with a school power saw at 10 a.m.

Princess Margaret has replied personally to a wedding greeting she received last Friday from Archbishop Harold Sexton of British Columbia. The archbishop cabled:

"The Anglicans of British Columbia send your Royal Highness and your husband prayerful good wishes for your happiness and well-being."

To which the Princess has replied: "Thank you so much for your very kind telegram which we have received with great pleasure—Margaret."

Archbishop Sexton read this cable to the 58th session of the Anglican Diocesan Synod of British Columbia meeting in Christ Church Memorial Hall today.

The first actual building work has begun on the site of the province's new law courts at 850 Burrard.

Formwork for the basement walls and floor is being placed and concrete pouring will begin very soon.

A contract for the main building is expected about the end of June, with a tender call in mid-June.

Working drawings on the main plans are still being made, but it is hoped the provincial architects will have them completed within a few weeks.

The entire project will cost some $2,000,000 and completion is expected in mid-1961.

The provincial cabinet today approved issue of $8 million worth of short term notes to repay outstanding debts of the B.C. Toll Bridges Authority.

Actual amount borrowed will be $7,968,320. It is for refinancing current debts.

The difference of $31,680 includes 2 per cent interest on the notes and a discount charge of 1.3 per cent.

The notes, sold to Harris and Partners, will be recalled Aug. 31. At that time other arrangements will be made for TBA financing, possibly issue of longer term bonds.

The TBA now has an indebtedness of $100 million. It has a borrowing power fixed by the legislature at $120 million.

The archbishop cabled: "The Anglicans of British Columbia send your Royal Highness and your husband prayerful good wishes for your happiness and well-being."

To which the Princess has replied: "Thank you so much for your very kind telegram which we have received with great pleasure—Margaret."

Archbishop Sexton read this cable to the 58th session of the Anglican Diocesan Synod of British Columbia meeting in Christ Church Memorial Hall today.

The archbishop revealed that he will be celebrating the 25th anniversary of his consecration as Bishop of British Columbia on June 29 next, which is St. Peter's Day.

Smart Victoria Housewife Works Magic With Monkeys

By PENNY SAVER

Friend of mine, who has an inherent talent for interior decorating, set me off on a hunt for monkeys this week! She had produced furnishing magic by having two of these saucy creatures (made of wood) cavort on a hanging lamp in her rumpus room. Effect was terrific!

Visiting the store where she'd bought them I wasn't too surprised when I found that her monkeys were creations of a famous Danish toymaker, Kai Bojesen. In either teak or oak, these wooden toys all have moveable limbs and sell for $6.20.

Intricate workmanship is shown in oak bears and rabbits that are also included in this line of world-known toys. Bears are priced at $2.50 and perky rabbits sell for $3.50. These are toys that even teen-agers would love to display in their memento-filled rooms!

Younger children will have hours of fun in the bath or on the beach with packages of durable, inflatable toys that sell for 98 cents. Each package contains three toys, a turtle, graceful butterfly and smiling fish. Toys measure eight and 10 inches and come in many colors.

Why is it that "mother's helpers" don't seem to mind sweeping the kitchen floor but often appear reluctant to finish operation by using a dustpan?

Could be they hate continually shuffling the pan around to make sure that every piece of dirt is collected? If this is your problem you'll be delighted to hear there are dustpans on the market that completely wipe out this objection!

Made of heavy rubber, these dustpans are heavy enough to hug the floor. Smoothly finished, they won't scratch a high polish. Price is $2.25.

For information on any of these items give Penny a ring at EV 2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here's the First Step in Learning How to Swim

Maybe you do not live close to an old nostalgic swimming hole, but I bet that if you live near a bay or a river, a pond or a pool, you will go swimming when the temperature soars, and perhaps before then. If you do not cool yourself off in this way and join the family in this wonderful exercise and fun, I bet it is because you are ashamed of your figure or do not know how to swim. "Why Grow Old?" has an answer for you for both problems.

Today, let's consider the problem of not knowing how to swim. It is simply amazing how conquering a small fear such as a fear of water can give a woman self-confidence and make her feel youthful. I have seen this happen over and over again. Just one little step toward enlarging one's outlook and interests can do wonderful things. Why not start right now to banish your fear of water, of having your head under water? This is the first important step in learning to swim.

Do this now, before the swimming season gets into full swing. Fill the basin in your bathroom with water. Take a deep breath, and hold it. Close your eyes and mouth and put your face under water in the basin. When you feel that you must raise your head for a breath of fresh air, blow the air in your lungs out through your nose as you lift your head.

After practicing this for a while, until you no longer have a fear of having your head under water, blow the air out when your face is still submerged. These two steps will be rewarding. Remember that swimming is one of the sports you can take down the years with you and one which folks of all ages can enjoy together. It is also figure molding and health building. DEAR ABBY

Eeny-Meeny . . .

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with two boys and don't know which one to marry.

First, there's Andy. He's sort of blond and sells insurance. Mamma likes him, which helps a lot. He's very reliable and seems anxious to get married.

Then there's Tony. He's dark and sort of gives me the creeps. (But they are awfully nice creeps, if you know what I mean.)

I don't know which one I like best. In the daytime I like Andy, but I believe I like Tony better at night. Which one do you think would make the best husband for me?

ANDY OR TONY? DEAR "ANDY OR TONY?": Don't marry either one, if it's a toss-up. Date others and make comparisons. When "The One" comes along, you'll flip your lid—not a coin.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "HELENE" said she wanted to divorce her husband because he might go blind at any moment was blind herself. Blind people can live happy, normal lives.

I am 13, Abby, but I know what I am talking about because my father is blind. He has never seen my mother, my sister or me. He went to college after he lost his sight and then he went to law school. I don't mean to boast, but I think he is the most wonderful father and lawyer in the whole world. Sincerely yours, CYNTHIA JEANNE RAMSEY.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter Millie, who is 16, has been running around with a fellow who is 24. Now I find she's pregnant. He says he can't marry her because he can't support himself, much less a wife. Can we force him to marry her?

I suppose I should tell you that when Millie was 15 she went out with an older man who got her drunk and got her in trouble. We were unable to get any help from the police in finding him because Millie was not sure of his name.

Should we try to force this second fellow to marry her? I can't raise another one of her mistakes.

MILLIE'S MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: You can't force a man to marry anyone. But he does have obligations toward the support of the child. Furthermore, a man who must be dragged by the neck to the altar would make anything but a desirable husband. How about Millie's moral behavior, Mother? Ask your clergyman or Family Service Association for help in getting your daughter back on the right track. She needs guidance, strength and supervision.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ON THE SPOT": Your husband is right. Return the gift. And tell your foreman that a pink silk nightgown is not an appropriate gift for the occasion under the circumstances.

"What Is Your Problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Subscription—Royal Roads Chapter, IODE, sent a subscription and a film to its adopted school at Minstrel Island, it was reported at recent meeting. A sum of $80 was realized from chapter's bake sale. Plans were made for a bazaar and tea. Mrs. M. Robinson and Miss R. Garwell were welcomed as new members.

OLDER MEN LIKE WOMAN BOSS

OTTAWA (CP)—Older employees of a business concern accept a woman boss more readily than those in their 30s, Ottawa secretaries heard recently.

This theory was agreed upon by four women executives who took part in a panel discussion at a meeting of the Association of Administrative Assistants or Private Secretaries.

"Older men who have good wives have decided that maybe women have a fair amount of intelligence," said Mrs. Ruth Millar, a grandmother who directs the Ottawa Travel Centre.

"Younger men are skeptical." She termed it natural for a man to feel undignified under a woman's authority, considering women's recent appearance in the business world.

Bridge Tea—Plans were made at recent meeting of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, IODE, for a bridge tea on June 8 at the home of Mrs. M. F. Loughheed, 950 Terrace Avenue. Mrs. A. Drysdale presided. Mrs. Owen P. Fowler, Municipal Chapter regent, was guest speaker, reporting on recent provincial annual meeting.

Junior IODE Chapter Sponsors Fashion Show

White and yellow spring flowers decorated tea table and reception rooms at the St. Patrick Street home of Mrs. V. A. Downard, last Sunday, for a fashion show and tea held under auspices of Oak Leaf Junior Chapter, IODE. A sum of $26.40 was realized.

Chapter vice-regent, Miss Brenda Rogers received guests; municipal regent Mrs. Owen Fowler and Miss Elsie Lowthian presided at the tea table and a special guest was Mrs. A. B. Hall, Nanaimo, provincial organizing secretary.

Fashion show was convened by Miss Jay Elliott. Commentator was Miss Edna Mae Dysart and the models, Misses Jean, Mary and Sharon MacRae, Linda Harness, Glenda Hawes, Gail Barnes, Nan Dufour, Jay Botterell, Joy Elliott, Carol Wiper and Tricia Holland.

Tea convenor, Miss Ann Downard was assisted by Misses Dianne Williston, Darleen Hinton, Joan Stallybras and Barbara Bull, as servers.

Before the tea, Miss Gail Barnes was installed as a new member by municipal organizing secretary, Mrs. W. R. Freethy. Announcement was made that the chapter had donated $100 to the university building fund and that plans were being made to present a $50 scholarship in music at Banff School of Fine Arts. Money for the latter project will be raised by a cotton rag drive in early June.

Women Reshaped To New Design

PARIS (Reuters) — Paris fashions demand self-control as designers reshape women to fit their fancy. It is the era of the fluctuating figure. Couturiers dictate nature's course with a wardrobe of different undergarments for various costumes.

Christian Dior decrees that bosoms should be flat in the daytime and accentuated after dark. Pierre Cardin votes for hips as slender as a broomstick under tubular street dresses, but rounds the hips in bubble-skirted formal fashions.

Rainbow-Hued Future For Women's Tresses

The day will come, and soon, when women won't think twice about having their hair colored — any shade! This is belief of Bob Preston, president of the British Columbia Hairdressers' Association, who spoke briefly at Victoria Hair Styling Council hair style show sponsored by All Saints' Ladies' Guild Wednesday evening.

"Women's crowning glory will be colored anything from emerald green to shocking pink," he said.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln dried siding is the finest available—a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

With its "grow-in" workability, weather resistence and lasting good looks, "Keystone" clear Western Red Cedar Siding has long been recognized as the standard of quality home construction.

It has a distinctive "shadow line" which enhances any architectural style in any setting, and is used to create a variety of interesting decorative effects on indoor surfaces as well as exterior.

5 GRADES TO CHOOSE FROM!

"FOREST" CEDAR SIDING

WHAT IS FOREST SIDING?

Made of dry 1 1/2" stock in 10 and 12-inch widths. "FOREST" siding is a new type of siding obtained from specially selected cedar logs, which show the beauty and character of knots, burls, etc.

APPEARANCE?

For homes and buildings where a distinctive and pleasing appearance is desired, enhanced by heavy shadow lines and intergrown knots ranging in size from 2-inch in 6-inch widths to 4-inch in 12-inch widths, add to the rustic appearance of this grade.

WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES?

"FOREST" siding, with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume, adds to the structural strength and solidity of the building. The design of "FOREST" siding, with its light weather seal at the lap which together with its thickness and flush-to-base principle makes excellent material from the INSULATION standpoint.

"FOREST" siding represents an economy to home builders. Costing less than most other types of siding, the lap design ensures easy fitting and speedy application at less labor cost.

HOW IS IT APPLIED?

As easily and quickly as common shiplap. Each piece of "FOREST" siding fits snugly on the one below and requires only one mitre cut.

HOW CAN IT BE FINISHED?

If a natural finish is desired, use equal proportions of raw linseed oil and any well-known brand of waterproof sealer. This not only protects the wood surface, but also brings out the natural beauty of the knots and the grain. If a colored finish is desired, "FOREST" siding can easily be painted. It is recommended that a sharp instrument be used to score the finished product underneath the butt where it will not show to stop formation of a vapor barrier.

Elvis Presley Sings as Frank Sinatra Guest Tonight at 9.30 on 4

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

INTERESTING—At the outset I would make it plain that I found Lister Sinclair's 90-minute adaptation of Henrik Ibsen's 1891 play, "Hedda Gabler," intensely interesting. Tuesday evening, it was, I believe, a production of merit.

However, my interest stemmed, unfortunately, from the clinical rather than from the heart. That is to say I became absorbed in the mechanics of the vehicle rather than in the story and so, of course, had to look about in my sub-conscious for the cause now knowing the effect.

I still haven't decided whether English actress Joan Greenwood played Hedda as Hedda should be played, how ever that should be. At times I found her enunciation difficult to follow and always I found her characterization acty and superficial. And yet wasn't that the type of person Hedda Gabler was supposed to be?

Yet, surely, Miss Greenwood could have projected the innate weakness of this shallow woman with the tortured soul in a more subtle and convincing fashion. After all, when a wife eventually kills herself live in a world in which she, through her own machinations, has knocked out the props from under her necessity to control the lives of others shouldn't one feel something? Sorrow? Regret? Pleasure? All I felt was that Hedda had committed suicide because Ibsen had written it to be so.

NOW MISS GREENWOOD is no slouch as her record proves. She has to her credit two long-run plays in London—"Lysistrata" and "The Grass Is Greener." Movie patrons will remember her also as having appeared with Sir Alec Guinness in "Kind Hearts and Coronets" and "Man in the White Suit." She was also in "Tight Little Sister."

Therefore, it may have been as one viewer suggested, that it was Miss Greenwood's (in this her Canadian TV debut) portrayal that allowed everyone else to appear so genuine. For instance I thought that Douglas Rains as George Tesman, Hedda's very ordinary writer-husband, was altogether excellent, shaking Ibsen's "datedness" and imparting a quantity of reality to the entire play. The same might be said in almost the same degree of Mavor Moore's Judge Brack, Leo Ciceri's Elert Lovborg and Hilary Vernon's Thea Elvsted. Nor, of course, should one forget Winnifred Dennis' Aunt Julia.

"Hedda Gabler" was produced by Mario Prizek and is the 16th of 19 Canadian programs in the 39-week series of CBC and NBC presentations.

LAST CHANCE AT FREE SALK SHOTS FRIDAY

Last opportunity for Greater Victoria residents to get free Salk vaccine anti-polio shots will be Friday when clinics will be held at Fairfield United Church, Fairfield and Moss, between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., and at the Saanich Health Centre, Gorge Road, from 5 to 6 p.m.

No appointments are necessary. Close to 1,000 persons have received the shots this year but officials feel the response "is not as good as it should have been."

Booster shots will be given in a month.

Officials say the number of paralytic polio cases in Canada this year is the highest since 1954.

Victoria Day Parade Biggest Yet

Greater Victoria Celebrations Association officials said today that float entries in the Victoria Day parade will exceed last year's total.

Over 30 full-scale floats have already been entered in the annual affair May 23, and a number of groups have yet to be heard from.

In addition to the floats there will be the usual large number of decorated cars and other mobile exhibits.

The association also said that over 20 band entries have been received to date and there would be more coming.

A new entry in the parade this year will be the "Glenettes," a group of 18 baton-twirling girls from the Glen Lake district ranging in age from seven to 17.

First cancellation this year came when the Royal Canadian Engineers (Chilliwack) Band was forced to withdraw from its scheduled Monday night, May 23, performance in Beacon Hill Park.

There will, however, be a Sunset Ceremony performed by the RCN the same night at 8 o'clock in Esquimalt's Bullen Park.

Dance to Raise Cash for U of V Building Fund

A dance band led by Victoria musician Bonnie Sprinkle will take the stand Friday at Club Tango for an Oak Bay Board of Trade cabaret in aid of Victoria University building fund.

Facilities at the club have been donated for this dance, starting at 9 p.m. and running until 1 a.m.

Net proceeds will be given to the current public drive for funds to establish permanent buildings at the site of the University of Victoria.

BRITISH ORCHESTRAS
Britain now has eight permanent symphony orchestras, not counting BBC radio orchestras, compared with three some 25 years ago.

Vote Taken Tonight On YM-YW Merger

The efforts and ideas of many Victorians over the past five years rest on the shoulders of YWCA directors tonight.

Approval by the YWCA is the last obstacle in the path of an amalgamated YM and YWCA in Victoria since the men's group voted approval Wednesday night.

Exploration into the desirability and feasibility of the move has been going on for some years with representatives from already amalgamated Ys across Canada giving their findings to local groups.

President of the YMCA, Dr. Alan McGill, said today that he thought, "through amalgamation, we can do a better job."

He said that if tonight's anticipated approval is given, preparations will begin immediately for a fund raising campaign "either next year or the year after" to raise a new building capable of housing both groups.

Housing accommodation was one field in which Dr. McGill thought there would be immediate benefit to the community. "We would have close to 100 rooms each for the men's and women's quarters," he said, "it would be an ideal place for students at the new Victoria University to reside."

The new building would be erected on already purchased property on Quadra Street opposite Christ Church Cathedral.

ONE OF 85 ENTRANTS expected to participate in Victoria Riding Academy's annual senior horse show May 23 on Cedar Hill Cross Road property is Mrs. Anne Straith, competing here for first time. She will ride "Stranger" in at least two of 17 scheduled events to start at 10 a.m. Junior show, with 100 entries and 19 events, will be held May 21 starting at 9:30 a.m. Entries are from throughout Island and from mainland.

17 EVENTS LISTED

Open Horse Show Details Announced

Details of the Victoria Riding Academy open horse show to be held May 23 at the academy's grounds on Cedar Hill Cross Road today were announced by D. B. Carley, general chairman.

There will be 17 events, and competition will start at 10 a.m. Entries will close at midnight, May 15, but post entries will be accepted at double fee until 9 a.m. on the day of the show. Entry secretary is Mrs. Don Straith, 3983 Locarno Lane.

One of the most colorful events will be the Arabian horse class with rider in native costume. Performance and manners will be the most important factors judged, but appointments will account for 25 per cent of the marks.

There also will be an Arabian pleasure horse class with riders in conventional dress.

3 WESTERN CLASSES
Western horses will have a chance to compete in three classes for pleasure, working and pairs, and there will be four hack classes.

Emphasis in the show will be on hunter and jumping events, with eight classes listed.

Six-bar event calls for horse and rider to jump six identical bars, each 3½ feet high and 33 feet apart in a straight line. There will be no time limit, and bars will be raised in case of jumpoffs.

CALIFORNIA JUDGE
District team jumping event will bring together one team of three horses and three riders from any city or municipality. The team must be entered with the Canadian Horse Show Association, and may include one spare horse and rider.

Judge will be Eldon J. Fairbanks of Pasadena.

YOUNG VIOLINIST SHOWS 'EXCEPTIONAL TALENT'

High Standard by School Musicians

By AUDREY JOHNSON
Calibre of work on the part of teacher and student that has won for the Victoria Schools Symphony Orchestra, so unique and proud a reputation in the Pacific Northwest, was demonstrated fully Wednesday night in a concert at Victoria High School.

Phases of instrumental study and performance from the beginners' group emanating from Central and Oak Bay Junior High Schools, to the senior string quartet composed of violinists Don Kissinger and Corinne Field, Betty Gahn, viola, and Ruth Ireland, cello, were included in the program.

Performance of a Hindemith Quartet and the Beethoven No. 5, first movement, by the latter group was so well carried out that one was left in no doubt as to the quality and achievement—both actual and potential—of these four first desk members of the orchestra.

As a group they have already developed a nice sense of ensemble playing and an indication of genuine style.

MRS. DOROTHY EVANS
... conducts students

Another exceptional talent was revealed in the playing by Michael Adamson, accompanied by Philip Adamson, of the first movement of Kabalevsky's Violin concerto, and in the fine tone and flexible technique displayed by saxophone soloist Keith Donaldson, whose partner at the piano was Pat McIvor.

The beginners' string group carried off their assignment of four short pieces, with great credit to themselves and their instructor.

A group of pieces by the Grade 9 string class of Central Junior High indicated that the major orchestra will not suffer from a dearth of well-trained and able string players in the immediate future.

Second half of the program was entirely in the hands of the Schools Symphony Orchestra.

With Mrs. Dorothy Evans conducting, the ensemble played with incredible assurance and vitality. Attack and carefully scaled dynamics are the result of close musical attention and discipline.

Girls, Singers, Dancers At Jaycee Fair Opening

Vaudeville and the fun of the fair combine Monday when the 1960 Victoria Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition gets under way at Memorial Arena and the Victoria Curling Rink.

Junior Chamber of Commerce organizers have assembled a troupe of singers, dancers, jugglers, and an impersonator to entertain crowds twice daily at the six-day exhibition.

Heading the bill will be a quartet of Canadian singers, "The Diamonds," who have three "hit" records to their credit.

A troupe of five-count 'em—five beautiful American girls, the Emery Clay Dancers, will present three specialty numbers on their first trip to Canada.

The acts will be co-ordinated by master of ceremonies Bill David, a professional impersonator with the stage name "Mr. Everybody."

Another headliner in this vaudeville world of fun and hoke is George "The King of Balance" Lee who is billed as being able to do a trick that took ten years to perfect and that no one else in the world can do.

The show will be presented twice a day, at 3:30 and 10:30 p.m., in Memorial Arena.

VISIT POSTPONEMENT SOUGHT BY NIKITA

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Diplomats here said today that Premier Khrushchev will seek a postponement of President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Russia next month. They said Khrushchev would suggest this to Eisenhower during the summit conference. They have their views on Khrushchev's statement Wednesday that he was "horrificed" to hear Eisenhower had endorsed the flight of an American U-2 espionage plane over Russia.

Ike Wants To Go

Ready Unless
Invite Withdrawn

(Times News Services)
WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower told a group of Republican congressmen today he will not cancel his plans to go to Russia in June unless Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev withdraws his invitation. The president said, however, that if Khrushchev wants to follow up his highly critical remarks made in Moscow Wednesday by withdrawing his invitation, it will be all right with Eisenhower and the time can be easily utilized elsewhere.

The Congressmen reported that the president said that Khrushchev will have to withdraw his invitation in a face-to-face meeting at the summit in Paris next week before Eisenhower cancels his plans to go to Moscow.

Eisenhower is believed reluctant to call off his trip except for the most compelling reasons.

Diplomats in Moscow said it now is more important than ever for Eisenhower to make the trip. They said this would give him a chance to address the Soviet people directly, over television and radio.

Commonwealth to Condemn Stubborn S. Africa Policy

Canada To Join Protest

LONDON (CP)—South Africa's 10 Commonwealth partners are reported preparing a public repudiation of that country's racial segregation policies.

The Associated Press said the sharp action was decided after other Commonwealth leaders, in informal talks with South Africa's External Affairs Minister Eric Louw, tried unsuccessfully to get a modification of his government's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

The 10 countries reported ready to disown the South African racial policies are Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, The Central African Federation, India, Pakistan, Malaya, Ceylon and Ghana.

Senior Commonwealth officials said they would issue a declaration when the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference ends Friday.

In an effort to keep South Africa from quitting the conference, the delegates agreed to discuss the racial issue with Louw outside the formal conference sessions. But they found him unwilling to give ground.

COULD BE DROPPED

South Africa also is confronted with the possibility of being dropped from the Commonwealth if she goes ahead with plans to become a republic.

Louw sought unsuccessfully to get assurance that South Africa could hold its membership, as the Republics of India and Pakistan have done. But the other Commonwealth leaders withheld a pledge of continued membership.

Membership in the Commonwealth carries with it trade and tariff benefits worth millions a year to exporters. Louw prepared today to meet Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations for talks on his country's controversial policies.

The South African minister was scheduled to confer with Hammarskjöld about UN Security Council's April 1 resolution condemning his country's racialism.

FIVE-POINT PLAN

Louw repeatedly has argued that the issue is an internal matter, and that other Commonwealth countries should not interfere.

On Wednesday 12 British politicians and public figures presented to the Commonwealth conference a five-point plan of action to fight South Africa's segregation.

Senior conference officials began drafting the final communiqué Wednesday. It is expected also to range over East-West relations, disarmament, a nuclear test ban and world economic and trade questions.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada is reported to have been "quietly urging" another Commonwealth prime ministers' meeting.

Pilot May Face Death Sentence

LONDON (AP)—Pilot Francis G. Powers has been charged with espionage and Nikita Khrushchev has promised: "We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

This was reported today by Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

The penalty for espionage in the Soviet Union ranges from 10 years in prison to execution by a firing squad.

The agency said Powers told interrogators:

"I plead guilty to the fact that I flew over Soviet territory and over given points indictated on the route of the flight." Tass said that in the exhibit of Powers' alleged effects is a piece of silk bearing the Stars and Stripes and an inscription in 14 languages saying: "I am an American and do not speak your language. I need food, shelter and assistance. I will not harm you. I bear no malice toward your people. If you help me you will be rewarded."

'A-Bombs Coming In First Minute'

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Premier Khrushchev has warned that the United States will get an atom bomb on its territory "in the first minute" if the Americans try to unleash a war.

The warning was made in an impromptu press conference Wednesday at an exhibition of a shot-down American reconnaissance plane.

The full quotations of Khrushchev's remarks were cleared in Moscow this afternoon—nearly 24 hours later. Khrushchev declared State Secretary Christian Herter's statement that the flights would continue was "audacious, brazen, impudent... and a threat to peace."

"If the United States is going to unleash war and if they never have experienced an atom bomb on their territory, they certainly will in the first minute of the war."

The premier said Herter had "truly wiped off all the makeup and showed the true fangs of an imperialist."

Khrushchev added Russia has not sent and never will send its planes over the territory of any other country. "I want to warn those people sent as spies that we will have no mercy on them," he said.

U.S. DESIGNER CONFIRMS U-2

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI)—Lockheed designer C. L. (Kelly) Johnson said today a photograph of plane wreckage on public display in Russia is "definitely" the remains of a U-2 spy plane the Russians say they shot down from the skies.

Johnson said the wreckage was "definitely" the remains of a U-2 spy plane the Russians say they shot down from the skies.

'EVIL INDIAN' IN TV DRAMA CREATING WRONG PICTURE

OTTAWA (CP)—Television dramas portraying the Canadian Indian as evil are the cause of racial discrimination against Indian children attending non-Indian schools, a parliamentary committee was told today.

The Indian Association of Alberta said in a brief to the Commons-Senate committee studying Indian affairs that this type of propaganda can best be fought by teaching white children more of the not want to be an Indian because when the children play her game she always has to be killed. She got this from television and movies."

Mrs. Gorman said a federal Royal Commission should be established to determine a better educational system for Indian children. The system should not be designed to turn Indians into white people. "We do not want education that will turn us into second class white people; rather, we want to become first class Indians," the association's brief said.

"We want to obtain the knowledge which will enable us to live in this modern world, but we do not want to forget that we are Indians and that we are proud of it," the association said.

"I've got to run over to the convention for a while... relax, keep open wide, and most important, don't swallow..."

STRICKEN

Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, Gen. Lauris Norstad, 53, is in a Munich hospital recovering from a heart attack it was announced today by S.H.A.P.E. headquarters, Paris. Up until today officials had denied he suffered a heart seizure. Norstad was stricken as he played golf Sunday in Germany. He is expected to return to duty in two weeks.

HAVANA, Cuba, (UPI)—American pilot Matthew Edward Duke, 42, of West Palm Beach, Fla., was killed today when he ran into a Cuban army-navy ambush in an attempt to land a light plane on the outskirts of Havana to pick up two men and a woman described as "fugitives from revolutionary justice."

CUBAN MOBS IN ANTI-U.S. DISPLAYS

HAVANA (UPI)—Anti-American demonstrators carrying banners with such slogans as "Down with Yankee Imperialism!" or "Death to the U.S. Senate!" tied up traffic in downtown Havana for two hours Wednesday night.

About 2,000 persons massed at the corner of San Rafael and Galliano Streets to cheer anti-American speeches by Jesus Soto, radical leftist boss of the CTC union federation, and other union leaders.

Smaller demonstrations, apparently organized by CTC locals, were reported elsewhere in the city. Police guards armed with rifles were posted at the U.S. Embassy as an apparent precaution against mob attack, but there was no report of violence or casualties.

In Baton Rouge, La., the manager of an airplane charter service said Duke rented a plane from him last Saturday. Government intelligence officers apparently received a tip that a plane was coming in this morning, and had stationed at least 30 crack sharpshooters from the army and navy around the landing spot on the highway.

According to these reports, the waiting troops saw the would-be passengers arrive in a car and truck and watched them duck into nearby bushes to wait for the plane.

As soon as Duke landed the plane, he was fired upon by the waiting gunners. The pilot may have been hit by the first shots. But he quickly gunned the engine and took off again. He got only a short distance off the ground when the heavy machine gun and rifle fire downed the aircraft.

The U.S. government said in Washington that Duke was one of 22 persons ordered not to make unauthorized flights to Cuba.

WILLISTON ... reports "fantastic"

'United Opinion' On Columbia

Canada-U.S. negotiations on hydro development of the Columbia River are being disrupted by "utterly fantastic" reports of disunity between Ottawa and British Columbia, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston said today.

He said a meeting here Saturday of federal and provincial power experts was an overture to a Canada-U.S. session next week in Washington.

There is a "united opinion" in aims for development of power resources on the Columbia in the B.C.-Ottawa talks, Mr. Williston said.

Expected here Saturday for the Columbia talks are Justice Minister Davie Fulton, External Affairs Minister Howard Green, Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton and Gen. A. L. McNaughton, Canada's representative on the International Joint Commission.

Mr. Williston, B.C. Hydro chairman Dr. Hugh Keenleyside and probably Attorney General Robert Bonner will represent B.C.

Mr. Williston said there is a gradual atmosphere of progress in the talks. "We are working along step by step."

A-Radiation Jumps

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—A sharp and unexplained 110 per cent increase in atomic radiation at Argentina's Antarctic base last week was reported officially today.

Canada's Defence Role

By TOM GOULD

(Fifth of a Series)

OTTAWA—Submarines sitting off Canada's Pacific coastline could lob intermediate ballistic missiles at almost any target in the nation, and the same applies to the U.S.

Calgary would be an easy shot. Winnipeg would be an easy shot. Winnipeg would be an easy shot.

This is the challenge that must be met by the U.S. and Canadian navies. What are they doing about it?

In the U.S., now, the emphasis is switching from the defence to the offence, from submarine killers, to the new Polaris submarines, nuclear subs capable of launching from 16 to 20 hydrographic warheads at land targets.

Canada is still building destroyer-escorts, vessels that would have great difficulties in even detecting a nuclear sub, and enormous problems in destroying one.

Some Confusion

There is some confusion in RCN circles today, because no one appears certain just where it is headed. In the absence of any new policy, the government order more DE's.

Let there be no mistake, the Canadian Navy, with a total of 62 ships, including mine sweepers and auxiliaries, would not be alone in any all-out attack on North America. In the Atlantic, they would work in close co-operation with other NATO forces.

In the Pacific, there is a working arrangement that cannot be termed a formal alliance.

The DE was designed to kill submarines, and despite the advance of technology, is best suited to convoy duties, although the government insists there will never again be a requirement for convoying troops and supplies through waters infested with hostile subs.

Hunter-Killer Force

In this realization, efforts have been made to turn the RCN into what is known as a hunter-killer force, whose task it would be to seek out and destroy submarines in the event of nuclear attack.

By the application of logic, this would involve being at sea, in touch with the hostile submarine, in a position to destroy them before they could launch missiles at land targets.

The vastness of the world's oceans makes this a practical impossibility.

The navy has made valiant

'MILLION $' RAIN SOAKS OKANAGAN

KELOWNA (CP)—A "million-dollar" rain drenched the Okanagan Valley early today, bringing welcome relief to orchardists and gardeners who had already started using sprinkler systems.

A total of 65 inches had fallen here by 8 a.m. today and an hour later in Vernon, to the north, the count was 31 inches.

The weatherman said showers would continue throughout the day.

Due to a light snow cover, the orchard lands and gardens in the area had no reserve moisture supply.

FATHER-SON COMBINATION SETS REAL ESTATE HISTORY

The Holmes father-son combination made real estate history Wednesday.

When P. D. P. "Pip" Holmes, the son, was elected president of Victoria Real Estate Board at the annual meeting in the Empress Hotel, it marked the first time in the board's 39-year history that a father-son combination occupied the top office.

Mr. Holmes' father, Major Cuthbert Holmes, was president of the board in 1928.

Other officers installed by William Hawkins, Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau commissioner, were L. M. Corke and K. J. Davis, vice-presidents.

Mr. Hawkins installed as directors P. N. Caldwell, W. S. Kirkpatrick, R. Fraser Biscoe, L. E. Kirk, S. W. Evans, and J. L. P. Mears.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Industrials Slump In Toronto Trading

Industrials slumped amid light trading to depress what had been a gaining stock market at Toronto.

Beaver Lumber and Texaco Canada led industrials lower, both off 1/2. Among the winners Bathurst Paper A was up 1 1/2 and Zellers 1 point.

Steels and electronics were the pacemakers as the New York market made an advance today in lively trading.

JAPANESE IMITATIONS PROTESTED

TOKYO (Reuters)—Overseas manufacturers have complained about Japanese imitations of their goods, Japan's trade ministry has announced.

Businessmen in nine western countries, including Canada, accused Japanese manufacturers of copying their designs or trade marks in 1959.

There were 65 such cases last year compared with a total of 63 in the previous two years combined, according to the trade ministry.

In 21 of the 1959 cases, the ministry issued warnings of the Japanese firms involved. Six cases were settled between the Japanese and foreign firms.

Among the copied items were synthetic textiles, gloves, scarves, electric shavers, fishing tackle, talcum powder, toys and razor blades.

The ministry also announced it had stopped issuing licences for exports of transistor radio sets to Canada and the U.S.

Transistor set exports to Canada and the U.S. during April were approximately 800,000 sets, an increase of 500,000 sets compared with April, 1959.

Annual Meeting Of CMA June 5-7
TORONTO (CP)—Some 2,000 representatives of Canadian industry are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here June 5 to 7.

Theme of the meeting will be "The Sixties—New Dimensions for Industry".

Richard B. Wigglesworth, United States ambassador to Canada, will address the annual dinner, June 7, and George Drew, Canada's high commissioner to Britain, will be the dinner speaker June 6.

The figure compares with 230.6 for March, 1959.

The index is based on 1935-39 prices equaling 100.

Lower prices for cured meats, hides, skins, furs, livestock and leather were chiefly responsible for the decrease, aided by decreased prices for zinc and tin.

OTTAWA (CP)—Dana Wilgess, chairman of the Canadian Section of the Permanent Joint Board of Defence, will be guest speaker, May 15, at the annual Canadian-United States ceremonies in British Columbia sponsored by the International Peace Arch Association.

The external affairs department said Wednesday Mr. Wilgess will speak at the border between Washington State and B.C. where the International Peace Arch was unveiled in 1922 to mark more than 100 years of peace between the two countries. Mr. Wilgess is a native of Vancouver.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Active trading in wheat futures began today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The United Kingdom was reported to have purchased about 200,000 bushels of wheat, and smaller amounts of barley.

Oats and barley prices were firm to higher with some shipping interest shown.

Rye reflected the strength of the other grains in a local trade.

Prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat all were down 1/4 from Wednesday.

'So Bad Even Communists Want to Escape'

By TONY DICKASON

Mrs. Maimu Raig, 37, of 3001-Austin, is in the odd position of having to teach her mother English and her son, Thomas, 9, Estonian.

Her mother, Mrs. Emilia Kallas, 62, arrived here the other day from the Russian-dominated country while son Tommy was born in Canada.

Mrs. Raig fled her homeland in 1944, by motorboat to Finland and then Sweden. She has been in Canada 10 years.

"It was grim. The Germans were firing at us from a boat at sea, and the Russians were firing at us from land."

This was when the Russians came to Estonia in 1944. About 100,000 Estonians "escaped," most to Sweden.

"It was dangerous to get out, but those things had to stay in."

"You understand," Mrs. Raig said today, "that if I talk too much it makes it difficult for other people to get out."

LUCKY TO COME—Interpreting for her mother, she explained that even the Russians in Moscow, from whence Mrs. Kallas flew to London-Montreal-Vancouver, "said I was lucky to be able to come to Canada."

"Even the Communists want to escape—things are so bad."

In the year Mrs. Raig got away, "in one week they took 60,000 Estonians to Siberia. We had no freedom. You could trust nobody."

Mrs. Kallas lived on a farm

the family owned and operated until arrival of the Russians. They made it a collective farm. She was left with a garden plot.

How raise the money for the fare here?

"I did weaving—like rugs, and saved the money I made from selling them. It had to be done secretly. Sale of such things under Russia are taxed so high it is useless to try—pointless."

It took the strong-willed woman 16 years to raise the cash.

But 2½ years ago she applied for an exit visa for Canada. Nothing happened. Papers were "lost."

Mrs. Raig tried from this end, and bit-by-bit the efficient Canadian embassy got action.

Last August "mother" tried again. She made it.

"There are a few older people getting out, very few."

I was fortunate. They never let the young people out, oh no."

SQUEEZED—There are now, she said, more Russians in Estonia than there are Estonians.

And they have "stripped" the Estonian forests, which split the economy with farming in earlier days.

Mr. Harold Raig is a for-ester-in-training with the provincial government. In Sweden he was supervisor of a forestry camp.

Mrs. Raig is a bachelor, of arts, and learned her English in high school at home.

"Mother hasn't yet."

"My immediate regret," she said through Maimu today, "is that I do not know English."

But like most women, said Mrs. Raig, "she can shop in any language."

FAMILY CIRCLE IS COMPLETE AT LAST, after 16 years. From Estonia came "grandmother" to meet with daughter Maimu and granddaughter Catherine, aged three. (Times Photo).

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

What is British diplomacy?

I discovered the answer at a cocktail party given the other evening by Sir Saville Garner, U.K. High Commissioner to Canada, and Lady Garner.

Both were the soul of friendliness and hospitality—so much so that towards closing time a couple of Old Britons were minded to recall the songs of their youth.

The host and hostess didn't appear to notice; but, ere the sweet voices had gone more than three bars, a smiling young man (a member of Sir Saville's staff) crossed over to them, held out a hospitable hand and said:

"So nice of you to come, gentlemen. Can I get you a taxi?"

In response to my request for readers' funniest experiences, Mrs. M.R.H., Saanich, confides:

"I left my two children with my husband while I went shopping. When I returned I found my husband asleep in the playpen and the two children enjoying themselves ransacking the sideboard drawers..."

R. J. Hillyer, a collector of odd stories, tells how the sales manager of a dog food factory called a conference of his salesmen and said:

"Everybody knows our dog food is the best in North America. Why aren't they buying more of it?"

To which a young salesman at the back of the room replied:

"Mebbe the dogs don't like it!"

Mrs. Betty McKay of 17 Dock Street wonders if any other Times readers have been approached downtown by a lady with a shopping basket who says:

"I've just missed my bus and my uncle, a very old man, is home alone and takes dizzy spells. Could you please run me home?"

Mrs. McKay was happy to do so but, in consequence, arrived late for an appointment with her doctor. When she explained why, several patients in the surgery laughed and said the same thing had happened to them.

TOPICS OF DAY

An open house for parents and friends of prospective pupils will be held by the Lansdowne Co-operative Play Group Monday through Friday next week from 11 a.m. to noon daily in Stevenson Memorial Baptist Church at 1792 Townley Road.

Two young men arrested for loitering and obstructing the sidewalk on Yates last Friday each were sentenced to a day in jail when they appeared in city police court Wednesday.

The men were Dennis K. McCoy and David K. Yardley, who had pleaded not guilty to the charge and later altered this to guilty.

Police said the two stood in the middle of the sidewalk, forcing pedestrians to walk around them.

Rev. William Hills, of Victoria, Rev. D. B. Houghton of Cowichan, and Rev. Canon G. H. Greenhalgh of Comox today were elected to the executive committee of the Anglican Diocesan Synod of British Columbia.

Elected to the board of governors, Anglican Theological College, were Rev. Canon T. Bailey, Rev. Dr. W. A. Ferguson and Dean Brian Whitlow of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria.

Young Burglar Gets Probation, Liquor Warning

Eighteen-year-old Eric Pedersen, 6332 Central Saanich, was put on a year's probation and $500 good behavior bond in city police court today for his part in the burglary of Hudson's Bay Co. store the night of May 1.

Pedersen and a juvenile took $978.63 worth of goods from the store when they broke in by way of the only pane of glass in the store unprotected by burglar alarm.

Magistrate William Ostler suspended sentence on the charge (to which Pedersen pleaded guilty), although he said he did so hesitantly.

Mr. Ostler noted the youth had been "skirting close to the line" in his behavior, even though he had no previous criminal record.

A probation report showed a poor driving record, that he drank too much and kept undesirable company. On the positive side, he found that Pedersen was a hard worker.

"I have some hesitation about suspending because I feel you need a lesson," the magistrate said, but decided to follow the probation officer's suggestion.

Pedersen must abstain completely from alcohol during his probation. "You are too young to drink and you cannot handle it," the court observed.

Young Burglar Gets Probation, Liquor Warning

The first actual building work has begun on the site of the province's new law courts at 850 Burrard.

Formwork for the basement walls and floor is being placed and concrete pouring will begin very soon.

A contract for the main building is expected about the end of June, with a tender call in mid-June.

Working drawings on the main plans are still being made, but it is hoped the provincial architects will have them completed within a few weeks.

The entire project will cost some $2,000,000 and completion is expected in mid-1961.

The provincial cabinet today approved issue of $8 million worth of short term notes to repay outstanding debts of the B.C. Toll Bridges Authority.

Actual amount borrowed will be $7,968,320. It is for refinancing current debts.

The difference of $31,680 includes 2 per cent interest on the notes and a discount charge of 1.3 per cent.

The notes, sold to Harris and Partners, will be recalled Aug. 31. At that time other arrangements will be made for TBA financing, possibly issue of longer term bonds.

The TBA now has an indebtedness of $100 million. It has a borrowing power fixed by the legislature at $120 million.

The archbishop cabled:

"The Anglicans of British Columbia send your Royal Highness and your husband prayerful good wishes for your happiness and well-being."

To which the Princess has replied:

"Thank you so much for your very kind telegram which we have received with great pleasure—Margaret."

Archbishop Sexton read this cable to the 58th session of the Anglican Diocesan Synod of British Columbia meeting in Christ Church Memorial Hall today.

The archbishop revealed that he will be celebrating the 25th anniversary of his consecration as Bishop of British Columbia on June 29 next, which is St. Peter's Day.

Crisis Looms In Shortage Of Dentists

British Columbia is fast approaching "a serious crisis" in the growing shortage of dentists throughout the province, Dr. C. B. Jameson of Victoria, president of the B.C. Dental Association, said today.

"In some areas B.C. dentists are booked up more than a year in advance," Dr. Jameson told some 400 dentists and their wives attending a three-day dental convention at the Empress Hotel.

"This means that many patients are having to travel hundreds of miles to get urgently-needed treatment."

Dr. Jameson appealed to the provincial government and the University of British Columbia to recognize the "urgency" of the situation.

PROSPECTS FADING—"It could be alleviated considerably by the establishment of a faculty of dentistry at UBC. But at present the prospects of such a faculty are more remote than they were five years ago."

"If this faculty were established tomorrow, it would still be some six years before the first graduates were in practice."

"Meantime, the increase in population in B.C. is far outstripping the proportion of new dentists setting up in practice."

CITY JOBS WANTED—Interviewed later, Dr. Jameson said there is a modern tendency for young dentists to avoid practising in rural areas.

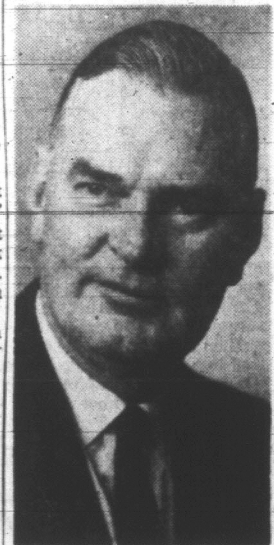

"As in so many other callings today, they want the amenities of city life, yet there is so much more scope and opportunity in the country."

One example of the dental shortage is that Dr. J. W. McVention, is one of only two dentists in the vast Burns Lake area.

At present some 47 B.C. students are training as dentists at Canadian universities, while 13 are at U.S. college faculties. Nearest faculties to B.C. are at the University of Washington, Seattle, and the University of Alberta, Edmonton.

New methods of making patients more comfortable in the chair are being discussed at local clinics accompanying the convention.

Dr. W. D. McDougall of Victoria will speak on analgesia (pain-killing) by pre-recorded sound.

RECENTLY ELECTED to fellowship in College of Fellows of Royal Architectural Institute of Canada was Clive D. Campbell, former deputy minister and chief architect in provincial public works department now in private practice. He is immediate past president of Architectural Institute of B.C. and provincial Progressive Conservative candidate for Victoria.

FIBERGLAS NOSE LIKELY FOR STATUE

The Queen's statue likely will wind up with a new fiberglass nose.

Sculptress Peggy Walton Packard is waiting for warm, dry weather so the material will "set."

Otherwise, if the original concrete was used, the sculpture bust—now in Beacon Hill Park—would have to have the nose in a sling for a considerable length of time.

"This just might cause a little flurry," Mrs. Packard said.

Vandals broke the nose after the statue was placed in the park. It made national headlines earlier when the bust was "stolen" from city hall by students, then returned (undamaged) when the joke started to wear thin.

The fiberglass nose will have to be "matched up" with the gray concrete used in the rest of the bust.

ESQUIMALT NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Sussexvale, Antigonish, Ste. Therese, Stettler and Beacon Hill return Friday.

Westminster Lord Mayor City's Guest

Lunching with Premier Bennett today was an enthusiastic new B.C. booster—The Lord Mayor of Westminster, the heart of London.

"Love it," said Gordon Pirie, the Lord Mayor, about impressions after a week in the province.

The Lord Mayor, who met Victoria's Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell before being the premier's guest at an Empress Hotel lunch, leaves the city this afternoon.

He's taking off in a Grumman Goose flying boat from the Inner Harbor on a jaunt up-Island to visit Port Alberni.

He came to B.C. to take part in New Westminster's centennial celebrations and arrived in Victoria this morning.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: John Edmondson, 222 Vancouver, $15 for driving unaccompanied by an adult licenceholder while a learner.

Robert T. Alexander, HMCS Naden, $45 and licence suspension for careless driving.

Robert Templeman, 1270 Dallas, $20, for driving without a licence and $15 for speeding over 20.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Jolly Good Show for Tourism When Yanks Take to Cycling

By MICHAEL ROSE

It's a jolly good thing when the Yanks forget about their large cars and come up to see us on bicycles.

Of course this doesn't mean that one has to get one oneself, does one?

I did my bit for Tourist Appreciation Week today by riding a bike to interview Seattle Post-Intelligencer Bicycling Editor Barry Farrell who arrived this morning by ferry from Port Angeles.

I doubt whether I shall ever do it again, good neighbor policy or not.

Editor Farrell is making a tour of the Northwest through the Olympic Peninsula, Victoria, Sidney, and then by ferry to Anacortes and home where he will write about the joys of scenery from a cycle.

I only hope he does better with a notebook on a bicycle than your correspondent.

FRIENDLY CRITIC

"I hope," he said, pumping his well-muscled legs, "that I won't damage international relations too badly when I say that some of your Canadian cyclists' manners leave a lot to be desired."

For one thing, he said, drawing steadily away up the road, "they ride abreast on the highway and for another thing they ride too slowly."

At this point I made a resolve never to ride a bike in the States and pleaded for a coffee break.

While I attempted to recuperate, Barry ordered his breakfast which included crumpets.

"If you go to Victoria without eating crumpets," he ruminated, "I find that you have nothing to talk about when you get back home."

"This is something of a cultural trip," he continued, kindly loosening my tie; "anything we can do to cement relations between our two countries through this great sport is little enough."

CARS ARE PROBLEM—thing we can do to cement relations between our two countries through this great sport is little enough.

"Do not approach a cyclist from behind and blow your horn in a cheerful fashion, it can cause all kinds of nasty accidents. A man on a bike can probably hear you coming half a mile back."

How popular is the sport in Washington?

"Not very big down there, I'm afraid," he replied. "Cars have got a big head start on us; but I'm working on it."

NEW LOOK

Scenery from a cycle, he said, takes on a new dimension

from the usual view rushing past a car at 50 miles an hour.

Declining an invitation to accompany him further I watched him disappear on his odyssey and returned to my comfortable, well-muscled, four-wheeled car.

HUDSON WONG ... wins $35 prize

Judges Laud High Quality Of Posters

A 13-year-old Central Junior High School pupil has been declared winner of the Tourist Appreciation Week junior high school poster contest.

Telling his story "simply yet effectively" won the $35 first prize for Hudson Wong, grade eight, of 25 Marlborough.

Second prize was won by Doris Miller, 14, 1439 Myrtle, grade eight pupil at Lansdowne Junior High.

Third prize went to Larry Whitman, 15, 2665 Victor, a grade nine pupil at Lansdowne.

Judges Sid Barron, Times' cartoonist, and Tom Stock, commercial artist, said the 25 posters entered were of a high quality.

PROMISE DISPLAYED

"The youngsters showed considerable promise," said Mr. Barron. "It was obvious that they put in a great deal of work."

Mr. Barron said it is regrettable that Victoria doesn't offer training facilities for embryo commercial artists. Vancouver's Art School offers limited training but budding artists must go to Los Angeles or eastern Canada for intensified, practical training, he said.

Honorable mention in the contest was won by Gordon Callow, 13, 4003 Bow Road, grade seven at Lansdowne; Jan Horne, 12, 523 Harbinger, grade seven at Central Junior High; John Korruta, 16, 3228 Wascana, grade nine at Colquitz Junior High, and Vicki Wright, 13, 1230 Reynolds, grade nine at Lansdowne.

'Spy Plane May Help Summit'

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said tonight the American spy plane incident might help the East-West summit conference.

"If the summit came in a bit like a lion," he said, "then perhaps it would go out like a lamb. It is sometimes better to have a little of the trouble in the first stages of the discussion."

$4 Billion U.S. Aid Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress today approved and sent to President Eisenhower a compromise $4,086,300,000 foreign aid authorization bill trimmed only $88,800,000 below the president's original request.

Violinist Arrested In Bomb Hoax

WASHINGTON — Joseph Rosenberg, a 41-year-old concert violinist, was arrested in New York by FBI agents today on charges of perpetrating a bomb hoax against a Pan American jet airliner bound for Bermuda.

Schools Evacuated After Bomb Threat

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP)—Four Camp Petawawa schools were evacuated today after a telephone call warned that a bomb would explode in River Crescent school within a few minutes. Col. H. T. Fosberry, camp commander, said the River Crescent school had been "torn apart" by bomb disposal crews with no result. Students were sent home for the remainder of the day.

Soviet Airmen Flying to U.S. for Day

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Air Force said today that 10 Russian air officers will fly their own plane into Washington National Airport Saturday to attend American Armed Forces Day ceremonies.

Commonwealth
Will Condemn
S. Africa Policy

LONDON (CP)—South Africa's 10 Commonwealth partners are reported preparing a public repudiation of that country's racial segregation policies.

The Associated Press said the sharp action was decided after other Commonwealth leaders, in informal talks with South Africa's External Affairs Minister Eric Louw, tried unsuccessfully to get a modification of his government's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

The 10 countries reported ready to disown the South African racial policies are Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, The Central African Federation, India, Pakistan, Malaya, Ceylon and Ghana.

Senior Commonwealth officials said they would issue a declaration when the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference ends Friday.

In an effort to keep South Africa from quitting the conference, the delegates agreed to discuss the racial issue with Louw outside the formal conference sessions. But they found him unwilling to give ground.

COULD BE DROPPED

South Africa also is confronted with the possibility of being dropped from the Commonwealth if she goes ahead with plans to become a republic.

Louw sought unsuccessfully to get assurance that South Africa could hold its membership, as the Republics of India and Pakistan have done. But the other Commonwealth leaders withheld a pledge of continued membership.

Membership in the Commonwealth carries with it trade and tariff benefits worth millions a year to exporters. Louw prepared today to meet Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations for talks on his country's controversial policies.

The South African minister was scheduled to confer with Hammarskjöld about UN Security Council's April 1 resolution condemning his country's racialism.

FIVE-POINT PLAN

Louw repeatedly has argued that the issue is an internal matter, and that other Commonwealth countries should not interfere.

On Wednesday 12 British politicians and public figures presented to the Commonwealth conference a five-point plan of action to fight South Africa's segregation.

Senior conference officials began drafting the final communiqué Wednesday. It is expected also to range over East-West relations, disarmament, a nuclear test ban and world economic and trade questions.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada is reported to have been "quietly urging" another Commonwealth prime ministers' meeting.

DELAY IN IKE'S VISIT
SOUGHT BY NIKITAU.S. Leader
Wants to Go

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Diplomats here said today that Premier Khrushchev will seek a postponement of President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Russia next month. They said Khrushchev would suggest this to Eisenhower during the summit conference. They gave these views on Khrushchev's statement Wednesday that he was "horrified" to hear Eisenhower had endorsed the flight of an American U-2 espionage plane over Russia.

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower told a group of Republican congressmen today he will not cancel his plans to go to Russia in June unless Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev withdraws his invitation.

The president said, however, in Paris next week before Eisenhower cancels his plans to go to Moscow.

Remarks made in Moscow Wednesday by withdrawing his invitation, it will be all right with Eisenhower and the time can be easily utilized elsewhere.

The Congressmen reported that the president said that Khrushchev will have to withdraw his invitation in a face-to-face meeting at the summit over television and radio.

Diplomats in Moscow said it now is more important than ever for Eisenhower to make the trip. They said this would give him a chance to address the Soviet people directly, over television and radio.

Opinion'
On Columbia

Canada-U.S. negotiations on hydro development of the Columbia River are being disrupted by "utterly fantastical" reports of disunity between Ottawa and British Columbia, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston said today.

He said a meeting here Saturday of federal and provincial power experts was an overture to a Canada-U.S. session next week in Washington.

There is a "united opinion" in aims for development of power resources on the Columbia in the B.C.-Ottawa talks, Mr. Williston said.

Expected here Saturday for the Columbia talks are Justice Minister Davie Fulton, External Affairs Minister Howard Green, Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton and Gen. A. L. McNaughton, Canada's representative on the International Joint Commission.

Mr. Williston, B.C. Hydro chairman Dr. Hugh Keenleyside and probably Attorney General Robert Bonner will represent B.C.

Mr. Williston said there is a gradual atmosphere of progress in the talks.

"We are working along" step by step.

CUBAN MOBS
IN ANTI-U.S.
DISPLAYS

HAVANA (UPI)—Anti-American demonstrators carrying banners with such slogans as "Down with Yankee Imperialism!" or "Death to the U.S. Senate!" tied up traffic in downtown Havana for two hours Wednesday night.

About 2,000 persons massed at the corner of San Rafael and Galliano Streets to cheer anti-American speeches by Jesus Soto, radical leftist boss of the CTC union federation, and other union leaders.

Smaller demonstrations, apparently organized by CTC locals, were reported elsewhere in the city.

Police guards armed with rifles were posted at the U.S. Embassy as an apparent precaution against mob attack, but there was no report of violence or casualties.

Canada's Defence Role

By TOM GOULD
Times Ottawa Bureau
(Fifth of a Series)

OTTAWA—Submarines sitting off Canada's Pacific coastline could lob intermediate ballistic missiles at almost any target in the nation, and the same applies to the U.S.

Calgary would be an easy shot. Winnipeg would be tough, but not impossible. This is the challenge that must be met by the U.S. and Canadian navies. What are they doing about it?

In the U.S., now, the emphasis is switching from the defence to the offence, from submarine killers, to the new Polaris submarines, nuclear submarines capable of launching from 16 to 20 hydro-gen warheads at land targets.

Canada is still building destroyer-escorts, vessels that would have great difficulties in even detecting a nuclear sub, and enormous problems in destroying one.

Some Confusion

There is some confusion in RCN circles today, because no one appears certain just where it is headed. In the absence of any new policy, the government orders more DE's.

Let there be no mistake, the Canadian Navy, with a total of 62 ships, including mine-sweepers and auxiliaries, would not be alone in any all-out attack on North America. In the Atlantic, they would work in close co-operation with other NATO forces.

In the Pacific, there is a working arrangement that cannot be termed a formal alliance.

The DE was designed to kill submarines, and despite the advance of technology, is best

'A-Bomb
In First Minute'

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Premier Khrushchev has warned that the United States will get an atom bomb on its territory "in the first minute" if the Americans try to unleash a war.

The warning was made in an impromptu press conference Wednesday at an exhibition of a shot-down American reconnaissance plane.

The full quotations of Khrushchev's remarks were cleared in Moscow this afternoon—nearly 24 hours later. Khrushchev declared State Secretary Christian Herter's statement that the flights

The premier said Herter had "truly wiped off all the make-up and showed the true fangs of an imperialist."

Khrushchev added Russia has not sent and never will send its planes over the territory of any other country.

"I want to warn those people sent as spies that we will have no mercy on them," he said.

EVIL INDIAN IN TV DRAMA

CREATING WRONG PICTURE

OTTAWA (CP) - Television school is subjected to an unintentional type of discrimination caused by ignorance, by textbooks, or such influences as television, comic books or other media of communication and entertainment," said Mrs. John C. Gorman of Calgary, counsel for the association.

Mrs. Gorman said she knows of an Indian child attending a non-Indian school in the Calgary area who consistently degrades that she is Indian.

"She told me that she does knowledge which will enable us to live in this modern world, but we do not want to be like the Indians and we are proud of it," the association said.

BERLIN KEY TOPIC AT SUMMIT

Stalin in a Hurry But Nikita Can Wait

This third of a series of four articles on the approaching summit meeting in Paris studies the problem of Berlin in the light of post-war history.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(AP News Analyst)

A dozen years ago Joseph Stalin wanted West Berlin badly enough to risk war. He failed.

Nikita Khrushchev wants West Berlin. But he's in no such hurry.

The future of West Berlin, isolated 110 miles inside Communist-ruled territory, is a dominant issue before President Eisenhower, President de Gaulle, Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev at their Paris summit meeting beginning Monday.

Khrushchev says he wants the Western allies out of Berlin. He wants it made a free city. If the West refuses to come to terms, eventually he will act on his own and sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany, which then will lay claim to West Berlin and end allied rights there.

The campaign to get the United States out of Germany—and thus out of Europe—is a long-range one. There is unlikely to be much agreement on the questions of Berlin and divided Germany.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Here's how the Berlin situation came about:

As the Second World War neared its close, the U.S., Russia and Britain agreed on a four-power occupation for Berlin and Germany. An allied council for Germany would be set up. Air corridors for Berlin, British and the American, British and French zones would be marked out. A four-power directorate would control traffic.

In December, 1947, a London foreign ministers' conference failed to agree on how to restore German economic unity. The U.S., Britain and France decided to merge their occupation zones. It was the beginning of the end of co-operation with Moscow.

Three months later the Russians walked out of the allied control council. By June, 1948, the Russians had stopped allied traffic to Berlin.

On June 25 the West began a historic airlift. The Russians gave up, lifted the blockade.

While the Stalin era faded, Moscow marked time. Then it declared East Germany sovereign and in control of its own domestic and foreign policies. The West in turn permitted West Germany to rearm. The Russian answer: the Warsaw Pact military alliance of Communist Eastern Europe.

NEW PRESSURE

Gradually new pressure on West Berlin developed. East German Communists claimed sole control of air corridors from the west, despite the Yalta and Potsdam agreements. A big propaganda campaign claimed West Berlin was really part of East Germany.

In November, 1958, Khrushchev said he would end Soviet occupation of East Berlin, demanded that the allies get out of West Berlin and declared he would turn it into an international "free city" within a specified time. The West called this an ultimatum and said it would stay in West Berlin.

Khrushchev backed away. His meeting at Camp David last September with President Eisenhower brought a pledge of no deadline for Berlin negotiations. Five months later, Khrushchev renewed his threats, but he set no time limit.

Khrushchev likely will proceed slowly with regard to Berlin, seeking a formula under which the West might agree some day to withdraw. But it is highly unlikely that the West will buy any such idea.

CHINESE WANT EQUAL SAY

Shadow of Peking Hangs Over Summit

PEKING (Reuters) - China's shadow looms over the East-West summit conference opening in Paris Monday.

Although their representative will not sit beside the leaders of Britain, France, Russia and the United States, the Chinese Communists have made it clear they want an equal say on how to put the world right.

Peking has given notice that it will not be bound by an international agreement on disarmament or any issue which it has not negotiated or signed. The West acknowledges that any global disarmament can be effective only if Red China participates.

Prince Rupert Polio Death; Third In B.C.

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) - Prince Rupert recorded its first polio death in 2 1/2 years Wednesday.

Jim Monrad Backe-Bogstad, 31-year-old carpenter, died in hospital as arrangements were being made to fly him to Vancouver.

It was B.C.'s third polio death this year.

Medical authorities said Backe-Bogstad had not received Salk vaccine shots. Death was due to bulbar-spinal polio, a relatively uncommon form.

WOMAN COMMITTED

VANCOUVER - A Vancouver housewife charged with the butcher-knife slaying of her husband will be committed to a mental hospital, police court was told Wednesday.

Prosecutor Roland Bouwman told Magistrate Oscar Orr that Mrs. Dorothy Irene Johnson, 36, would be committed shortly. He said she did not appear in court because she is undergoing psychiatric treatment.

Mrs. Johnson was arrested May 2 after police found the body of Theodore Martin Johnson, 42, in the bedroom of his home.

SKULL FRACTURED

KAMLOOPS - Donald Grafton, 12, suffered a fractured skull Tuesday when a bag of school books thrown by an older youngster upset his bicycle.

GRANTS ILLEGAL

VANCOUVER - City council's approval of about $400,000 in cultural and welfare grants last month was found to be illegal this week.

None of the grants were approved by the necessary majority detailed in an obscure section of the city charter. The error was discovered by a city hall reporter.

'All WHL Clubs Back'

CALGARY (CP) - Western Hockey League president Al Leaver hinted today that all seven clubs would be back in the circuit for the 1960-61 season. Emerging from the morning session of the WHL's annual meeting, Leaver termed the meeting exceptionally good.

CHEQUE WARNING

VANCOUVER - Police have warned businessmen a cheque forgery ring may be planning an all-out attack.

The warning was issued after thieves stole 2,200 cheques and a photocopy from a real estate firm Wednesday, the third such theft in less than a week.

Police said thieves possibly were stockpiling the stolen cheques, planning to pass them in Vancouver and Lower Mainland centres sometime in the future.

U.S. DESIGNER CONFIRMS U-2

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) - Lockheed designer C. L. Kelly Johnson said today a photograph of plane wreckage on public display in Russia is "definitely" the remains of a U-2 spy plane the Russians say they shot down from the skies.

PERTH, Australia (Reuters) - Gerald Purcell, 18-year-old window cleaner, toppled from a sixth-floor window Wednesday, landed on an iron roof 60 feet below—and walked away virtually unhurt.

Deputy Minister Dr. G. F. Amyot said summer campers are susceptible through impure water and insect carriers.

This year may well be a record for the disease. Already there has been a large number of mid-land area cases.

The total for B.C. so far is double last year's total. Most cases in any year were 936 in 1959.

Dr. Amyot warned victims of dysentery to report immediately to their doctors or the nearest public health office to speed tracing of causes.

B.C. Campers Get Warning Of Dysentery

Summer campers have been warned they are the most likely victims in an outbreak of dysentery which has been sweeping B.C.

Statistics from the B.C. health services department show 674 cases of dysentery in the province during the first five months of this year. The average over the past four years for this period has been 444 cases.

Deputy Minister Dr. G. F. Amyot said summer campers are susceptible through impure water and insect carriers.

This year may well be a record for the disease. Already there has been a large number of mid-land area cases.

The total for B.C. so far is double last year's total. Most cases in any year were 936 in 1959.
